INTERNATIONAL STUDIES ASSOCIATION

Communicating The Ideas Of Those Who Care About Our Challenging And Changing Global System

Whether you are a scholar, practitioner, educator, student, or a concerned citizen, if you are interested in the study and conduct of national, international, and transnational affairs, membership in the International Studies Association can plug you in to a global network of information exchange. ISA is a multinational and multidisciplinary professional association of more than 2,200 individuals and 19 Associated or Affiliated institutions representing more than 40 countries. Many ISA members are engaged in scholarly research on or active participation in international affairs. Through our Annual Convention and several highly respected publications produced by the Association, including the International Studies Quarterly, ISA provides channels of communication among people from all parts of the world with intellectual interests in the global system.

The International Studies Association
Urges You To Attend
The 28th Annual ISA Convention
Omni Shoreham Hotel Washington, DC April 15-18, 1987

General Program Theme: "The Responsibilities of Power: State Interests and Global Needs"

The ISA Annual Convention is open to anyone with a serious interest in the world around them. It consists of panels and special events presenting research and ideas relevant to the convention theme and international studies in general. Many organizations present new publications, programs, and opportunities available to the international studies community. ISA also provides an employment service at the Convention which provides an opportunity for prospective employees to meet with institutional, governmental, and university employers.

The Central Intelligence Agency

A Photographic History

The Central Intelligence Agency shows the importance of the agency and its various methods of gathering information. The history of intelligence and William Donovan's mysterious travels before World War II introduce the book. Some of the book's highlights are the early cold war years, the emphasis on technology, human intelligence and the alleged abuses the agency was accused of during the 1970's, recently declassified information and how the CIA functions in a democracy.

First-published interviews with: Richard Bissell; William Colby; Admiral Stansfield Turner; Leo Cheme of the President's Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board; David Atlee Phillips; former Station Chiefs of the OSS and CIA; and General Eugene Tighe of DIA.

Special features include:

- A Who's Who of the CIA
- PFIAB
- A CIA Glossary
- The Clandestine Services Today
- KGB Watchdogs
- Science and Technology
- William Casey's CIA Today

This first-published photo journal contains hundreds of previously unpublished photos of personalities, buildings and operations. It also contains the first detailed organizational information and how the CIA functions abroad and in its accelerated role of informing Presidents and Secretaries of State.

Also included are chapters on America's other "spy" agencies and portraits and biographies of CIA Directors.

Foreword by the Honorable Richard M. Helms, former Director Central Intelligence.

Author: John Quirk; Consultants: David Phillips, Dr. Ray Cline, Walter Pforzheimer; Advisors: Tom Polgar, William Mulligan, Herbert Saunders, Tom Troy, Hans Moses, Samuel Halpern.
