SUPPLEMENTS

NOTE FROM THE EDITOR

We have distributed with the present issue the first Supplement to be published by the Journal of Laryngology and Otology. This has been made possible by a generous anonymous donation paid through the T. W. J. Foundation.

There is a limit to the length of an article which can reasonably be published as a single article in the main body of the Journal, which aims to produce approximately six or seven original articles, and the same or a slightly larger number of clinical records, with each monthly issue.

Longer articles or theses may be more appropriately published separately, and enquiries about the publication of such papers as future Supplements will be welcome. Terms for their production are available on application.

PRACTICAL COURSE

TEMPORAL BONE DISSECTION

A THREE-DAY PRACTICAL COURSE in temporal bone dissection will be held over the weekend 3, 4 and 5 November 1978.

This course is primarily for those relatively inexperienced in otological surgery, mainly those in the Registrar and Senior Registrar grades.

The course will be integrated with lectures on the indications, techniques and results of otological surgery and on the gross and histological anatomy of the temporal bone. This will be supplemented by televised surgical demonstrations.

The course will be held in the Temporal Bone Laboratory, Level 8, Phase I, Western Infirmary, Glasgow G11 6NT. Accommodation can be arranged if desired.

The course fee is £60 and includes lunch, coffee and reception.

The course is recognized by the Scottish Committee for Postgraduate Medical Education and is, therefore, approved for study leave and expenses.

Further details from Mr. G. G. Browning and Mr. A. Baxter at the above address.

Applicants should state their experience in Otological Surgery and Temporal Bone Dissection. If the course is oversubscribed suitable applicants will receive priority on the subsequent course later in the year.

Cheques should be made out to 'The 1880 Foundation'.
