

The Myth of the Bagre

Jack Goody

This volume presents the text and translations of the most extensive myth to have been recorded in tropical Africa. The LoDagaa of northern Ghana tell the story of the creation of man and of his culture and recount his relationship with the creator God and with the beings of the wild who transmitted his culture.

9 plates £9 Oxford Library of African Literature

India and East Africa

A History of Race Relations within the British Empire 1890-1939

Robert G. Gregory

India's relationship with East Africa from 1890 to 1939 is essentially a study of race relations within the British Empire. East Africa became a test case not only for Britain's success in building a harmonious Empire-Commonwealth but also for India's aspiration to settle its surplus population in peaceful communities overseas. The result was a disappointment to both Britain and India. 4 maps £7

Heroic Poetry of the Basotho

Daniel P. Kunene

The main features in this poetry are the eulogie and the narrative. These are described in detail; and paragraphs are then defined quantitatively, largely in terms of units which may be described as eulogie-narrative sequences. £3.75

Oxford Library of African Literature

The Historical Tradition of Busoga

Mukama and Kintu

David William Cohen

This book reconstructs, through the collection and analysis of the family and state traditions of Busoga, the founding of the sixty-odd states in the Busoga area and the events which have given rise to the popular traditions of the Adamic figures Mukama and Kintu. In reconstructing these events the author throws light on the early history of the Lake Victoria region. 12 maps £3.75 Oxford Studies in African Affairs

OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS

White Society in Black Africa The French of Senegal

RITA CRUISE O'BRIEN

"Based on interviews in depth with 250 French residents in various sectors, this study is presented in an eminently readable form. It covers political, commercial and social relationships, and sympathetically and objectively examines the always vexed question of mixed racial marriage. . . . This is a comprehensive, sensitive and most valuable study of a situation of great importance in post-colonial Africa."—W. P. Kirkman, Times Educational Supplement. With 3 maps and 9 cartoons. £3.50

Faber & Faber 3 Queen Square London WC1

Lesotho 1970

An African Coup under the Microscope B. M. Khaketla

This book, by the one-time Privy Councillor to the King of Lesotho, is an account of the steps leading to Lesotho's independence in 1966, a description of the men and groups that dominated the political scene through the independence period and the subsequent four years, and a chronicle of the chaotic events of January 1970, when a losing candidate in a national election repudiated the results by staging a coup.

Perspectives on Southern Africa, 5.

LC: 76-182278 320 pages $10.00

Protest and Resistance in Angola and Brazil

Comparative Studies Edited by Ronald H. Chilcote

Both Angola and Brazil have long histories of protest movements, ranging from guerrilla warfare to messianic popular uprisings. This work describes, analyzes, and compares a variety of these movements which have contributed to the unrest and conflict common to the two countries. Essays on Angola describe African movements against Portuguese colonialism while articles on Brazil present case studies of protest and resistance in the northeastern part of that country.

LC: 73-142054 352 pages $12.00

An Anthology of Swahili Love Poetry

Edited and translated by Jan Knappert

Original Swahili texts with facing English translations.

LC: 72-182285 200 pages Paper $3.50

Now available in paperback

Women of Tropical Africa Edited by Denise Paulme

308 pages illustrations paper, $3.65; cloth, $8.00

New

from California

University of California Press • Berkeley 94720

Ibadan History Series

New Titles

The Warrant Chiefs

Indirect Rule in Southeastern Nigeria 1891-1929

A. E. Afigbo

With the anti-colonial riot of 1929, organised and carried out entirely by women, the dramatic dialogue between the peoples of Southeastern Nigeria and British imperialism reached a new pitch. This book analyses the political and administrative aspects of the dialogue during the first thirty years of this century. Dr. Afigbo's study of the determined but misguided efforts of the colonial administration to control the political institutions of the Nigerian people is an important contribution to an understanding of both British colonialism and African reactions to attempts at subjugation.

0 582 64539 5 Illustrated Maps July Cased £4.00

The Evolution of the Nigerian State

The southern phase 1898-1914

T. N. Tamuno

As a study in administrative history, this book examines in depth the evolution of the modern Nigerian state from its colonial origins, concentrating particularly on events in the south during the years 1898-1914 and focusing on the major policy makers—British officials—and the chiefs and educated elite. Dr. Tamuno's work is especially valuable for the insight it provides into the responses of the Nigerians themselves at all levels to the important constitutional, diplomatic, political, economic and social developments which affected them until 1914.

0 582 64538 7 Illustrated Maps October Cased Probably £4.00

Longman

RACE

A Journal of Race and Group Relations

The Institute of Race Relations, 36 Jermyn Street, London, SW1Y 6DU

The journal provides contributions to the study of race relations from a wide range of academic and applied disciplines. Some emphasis is placed on articles contributing to the debate on policy and structural change. As well as articles, most numbers include 'Quarterly Forum'—which carries discussion on methods, and reports on organizations, conferences, and programmes—Correspondence, Book Reviews, and Books Received. One number in each volume will be devoted to a special issue: the April 1973 number will be on 'Race and Politics'.

VOLUME XIII

APRIL 1972

NUMBER 4

GERALD D. BERREMAN . Race, Caste, and Other Invidious Distinctions in Social Stratification

ERIC DUNNING . Dynamics of Racial Stratification: Some Preliminary Observations

GEORGE DE VOS . Social Stratification and Ethnic Pluralism. An Overview from the Perspective of Psychological Anthropology

REEVE D. VANNEMAN AND THOMAS F. PETTIGREW . Race and Relative Deprivation in the Urban United States

KATHARINE WEST . Stratification and Ethnicity in 'Plural' New States

W. G. RUNCIMAN . Race and Social Stratification

Books Received

Quarterly £3.50 or $9.50 a year

£1.00 or $3 single copies

Oxford University Press

Press Road, Neasden Lane, London, N.W.10

Shaka's Heirs

JOHN SELBY

The history of the great days of the Zulus, and their foundation, the military machine founded by Shaka and eventually destroyed with the defeat of Lobengula, the last of Shaka's heirs. Extensively researched, with an excellent bibliography, this work chronicles the national destruction by British and Boer expansion of a great, proud and very courageous people.

Fully illustrated

£4.00

GEORGE ALLEN & UNWIN

Journal of African History

is one of 49 learned journals published by Cambridge University Press.

A descriptive catalogue of Cambridge journals with details of back volumes is available from the London and New York offices of the Press.

Cambridge journals may be ordered from a bookseller or direct from the publishers.

Cambridge University Press
Bentley House, 200 Euston Road
London, NW1 2OB

American Branch: 32 East 57th Street
New York, N.Y. 10022

CONTRIBUTIONS

Contributions to the Journal are welcomed. They may be submitted in either English or French and, except with the prior approval of the Editors, should not exceed about 6000 words. Two copies should be submitted, clearly typed with double spacing on quarto paper, and with a left-hand margin of at least $1\frac{1}{2}$ in. (4 cm.). A summary of the contents of the article, not exceeding about 300 words in length, should be attached on a separate sheet. Footnotes, which should also be typed with double spacing, should be numbered consecutively throughout the article, and should include all bibliographical references; there should be no separate bibliography. First references should be complete, in standard form, so as to permit unequivocal identification of the book or article in question. Subsequent references should be by author's name and short title. Articles may be illustrated with line drawings and maps and, should the Editors agree that it is necessary, also with half-tone plates.

Galley proofs will be sent, if necessary by airmail, to each contributor (or his nominee) provided that the Editors have been given an address through which he can be reached without delay. Corrections should be kept to the minimum, and should be corrections, not new material. If they are to be incorporated in the master proof corrected by the Editors, it is important that the contributor should return the galleys, by airmail if necessary, to the Editor named when they are sent out (and not to the Cambridge University Press), within ten days of his receipt of them.

Contributors of articles and review articles receive 25 free separates. Additional separates may be obtained at reasonable cost, provided that they are ordered before publication on the special form sent out with the galley proofs.

All contributions and books for review should be addressed to The Editors, The Journal of African History, School of Oriental and African Studies, University of London, London, W.C.1.

CONTENTS

I	The Rise and Fall of Zimbabwe By T. N. HUFFMAN (Historical Monuments Commission, Rhodesia)	353
II	'He Swalloweth the Ground with Fierceness and Rage': The Horse in the Central Sudan. I. Its Introduction By HUMPHREY J. FISHER (School of Oriental and African Studies, University of London)	367
III	L'Itineraire d'Ibn Battuta de Walata a Malli By CLAUDE MEILLASSOUX (C.N.R.S., Paris)	389
IV	The Early History of the Sultanate of Angoche By M. D. D. NEWITT (University of Exeter)	397
V	Historical Notes on the Kisama of Angola By BEATRIX HEINTZE (Frobenius Institut, Frankfurt a. M.)	407
VI	Social and Economic Factors in the Muslim Revolution in Senegambia By MARTIN A. KLEIN (University of Toronto)	419
VII	The Origin, Formation and Early History of the Chikunda of South Central Africa By ALLEN ISAACMAN (University of Minnesota)	443
VIII	Lewanika's Achievement By MUTUMBA M. BULL (University of Zambia)	463
IX	Reactions to Rinderpest in Southern Africa, 1896-97 By C. VAN ONSELEN (St Antony's College, Oxford)	473
X	Problems in the Interpretation of the History of the Maghrib in the Light of Some Recent Publications By MICHAEL BRETT (School of Oriental and African Studies, University of London)	489
XI	Review Article: French Military Imperialism By YVES PERSON (Université de Paris I—Sorbonne)	507

BOOKS REVIEWED

The Early History of Malawi Edited by B. Pachai (TERENCE RANGER), 511; Igbo-Ukwu: an account of archaeological discoveries in eastern Nigeria. By Thurston Shaw (FRANK WILLET), 514; Asante and its Neighbours, 1700-1807. By J. K. Fynn and African Politics and British Policy in the Gold Coast, 1868-1900. By Francis Agbodeka (R. C. C. LAW), 516; Bushman Raiders of the Drakensberg, 1840-1870. By John B. Wright (S.M.), 518; Joseph Thomson and the Exploration of Africa. By Robert I. Rotberg (CAROLINE OLIVER), 520; La Mutinere Militaire au Kasai en 1895. By Fr. Marcel Storme (THOMAS TURNER), 521; French Colonialism in Tropical Africa, 1900-1945. By Jean Suret-Canal (JOHN D. HARGREAVES), 523; Reaction to Colonialism: A Prelude to the Politics of Independence in Northern Zambia, 1893-1939. By Henry S. Meebelo (GERALD L. CAPLAN), 524; Unions, Parties and Political Development: a Study of Mineworkers in Zambia. By Robert H. Bates (PETER SLINN), 526.

SHORTER NOTICES

Manuscript collections of Africana in Rhodes House Library, Oxford: supplement. Compiled by Louis H. Frewer (M. D. MCKEE), 527; Southern African History Before 1900: A select bibliography of articles. By Leonard Thompson, Richard Elphick and Inez Jarrick (S.M.), 528.

© Cambridge University Press, 1972

Printed in Great Britain at the University Press, Aberdeen