Fellows begin their fellowship year with a comprehensive four-week orientation with leading congressional experts and policy leaders. Fellows then serve full-time placements of their choosing in the House of Representatives or Senate.

The fellowship year also includes:

Candidates must be US citizens or permanent residents. The program is open to scholars in all subfields of political science who can show a scholarly interest in Congress and the legislative process.

FELLOWSHIP YEAR: Orientation begins in November 2017. Office assignments run until August 15, 2018. Two optional programs precede the main fellowship year. Candidates may apply to take a course on Congress and Foreign Policy taught in September and October 2017, as well as apply to spend up to two months as a Visiting Scholar at the APSA Centennial Center, supported by the William A. Steiger Fund for Legislative Studies, also immediately before the main fellowship year.

STIPEND: $50,000 for the 9.5-month fellowship period, plus a travel allowance.

This is an important book which should be in every serious library.”—Tom Powers, author of Intelligence Wars: American Secret History from Hitler to Al-Qaeda

The Jury in America

Triumph and Decline

Dennis Hale

“The Jury in America is an indispensable contribution to understanding a vital institution, one that once embodied real responsibilities in the hands of the governed as an antidote to a stifling centralization of democracy. Dennis Hale’s compelling work bears out Tocqueville’s fear that a more administrative, less political regime would curtail the people’s ability to make defensible judgments on matters that are inherently uncertain.”—Norma Thompson, author of Unreasonable Doubt: Circumstantial Evidence and the Art of Judgment

478 pages, Cloth $39.95, Ebook $39.95

Abraham Lincoln and Liberal Democracy

“An unusually wide range of weighty scholars provide through this volume an unprecedentedly deep and rich interpretative guide to Lincoln as a political thinker. The Heir Apparent Presidency

Donald A. Zinman

“Zinman presents a systematic and well-written account of the challenges that face heir apparent presidents. This excellent book explains how these presidents must repair and extend the visions of their predecessors, often at great political cost. Zinman does an able job of illustrating the contradictions of heir apparent leadership, bringing new insights about each of the cases he explores.”—Julia R. Azari, associate professor of political science, Marquette University

DRONE

Remote Control Warfare

Hugh Gusterson

"Gusterson makes it clear why we don't speak clearly about drones. Only by muddying the waters can we bear to acknowledge what we have invented: a new and oddly intimate waystation in the mechanization of death."
