THE BROWNING OF CASA GUIDI

Edward C. McAleer

A brief account of the Brownings' life together and of the house that was their home. "Edward C. McAleer's captivating little text, absolutely the best of its kind, serves as a guidebook to the domestic Brownings. . . . concise, lucid and graceful. . . . His book is intended for intelligent readers relatively unfamiliar with the terrain; but even the specialist will come across items forgotten or overlooked" (Boston Globe). Illustrated. Second printing (with revisions).

Cloth: $12.00; members' price, $10.00.
Paperback: $6.25; members' price $5.00.

BROWNING INSTITUTE STUDIES

Browning Institute Studies, the annual of the Browning Institute, contains material on all aspects of Victorian literary and cultural history. Regular features include the annual bibliography of the Brownings and articles about their lives and works. "Handsome format . . . every contribution is written in lucid English" (Browning Society Notes). "Concentrates on the kind of hard research which the Browning Institute is best equipped to foster" (Victorian Poetry). Illustrated.

Cloth: $30.00 per volume. Members (except Student Members and Foreign Members) receive the current volume without charge, and all members may purchase single back volumes for $10.00 each. BIS 15 (1987): "Meeting the Brownings." BIS 14 (1986): "The Victorian Threshold." BIS 13 (1985): "Victorian Women and Men." BIS 12 (1984): "Italy and the Victorian Imagination." BIS 11 (1983): "Victorian Modernism" (Wendell S. THE BROWNING COLLECTIONS: A RECONSTRUCTION WITH OTHER MEMORABILIA

Compiled by Philip Kelley
and Betty A. Coley

In 1913 Sotheby's auctioned the vast collection of books, manuscripts, proofs, furniture, and other possessions that had once been owned by Robert and Elizabeth Barrett Browning and their son Pen. After years of patient research, Philip Kelley and Betty A. Coley have produced a list of nearly 7,000 items from the Browning household (including their private library), and half of these have been traced to their present owners. "This book presents so much new information and offers it in so many valuable ways that it must be pronounced indispensable. No one, from this time forth, should attempt to research or write on the Brownings without it at hand" (Bulletin of Bibliography). Illustrated. A co-publication with Wedgestone Press.

Cloth: $85.00; non-library members' price, $68.00.

THE LETTERS OF ELIZABETH BARRETT BROWNING TO MARY RUSSELL MITFORD

1836-1854

Edited by Meredith B. Raymond and Mary Rose Sullivan

In all, 497 letters - the largest number Elizabeth wrote to a single correspondent - have been traced; and for the first time the entire collection is presented in full, with scholarly introduction, detailed annotations, and an index. Miss Mitford said of the letters: "It was really talk, fireside talk, neither better nor worse, assuming a form of permanence - gossip daguerreotyped." Three volumes. A co-publication with Wedgestone Press.

Cloth: $160.00; non-library members' price, $128.00.

Elizabeth Barrett Browning's
CASA GUIDI WINDOWS

Edited with an Introduction
and Notes by Julia Markus

This new critical edition is the first volume of Elizabeth Barrett Browning's poetry to be edited in accordance with modern scholarly standards. Dr. Markus argues for a reevaluation of Mrs. Browning's poetry, and points out the historical misconceptions, aesthetic bias, and anti-feminist prejudice that have combined to obscure Mrs. Browning's most political poem. Includes an introduction, reliable text, historical and critical notes, and textual notes. Illustrated.

Cloth: $12.00; members' price, $10.00.

MEETING

High-gloss paper, 128 pages. A co-publication with Armstrong Browning Library of Baylor University and with Southwestern College.

Paperback: $17.50.

THE TRAGI-COMEDY
OF PEN BROWNING

Maisie Ward

A biography of the Brownings' only child, a boy whose early promise was never fully realized. Introduction by Robert Coles. "A sensitive, shrewd and charitable essay" (TLS). Illustrated.

Cloth: $9.00; members' price, $7.50.

ROBERT AND ELIZABETH
BARRETT BROWNING:
AN ANNOTATED
BIBLIOGRAPHY, 1951-1970

THE BROWNING INSTITUTE

After Elizabeth's death in their Florentine apartment on 29 June 1861, Robert Browning commissioned the above painting, Salon at Casa Guidi, by George Mignaty. Since the painting (now in the Goewey Collection of Mills College Library) provides a remarkably detailed record of the room's appearance in 1861, it is one of the chief sources of evidence being used by the Browning Institute, which owns Casa Guidi, in plans for restoration. Today the Browning rooms are open once more to the public, and by joining the Browning Institute you can contribute to the restoration of Casa Guidi as a museum and study center.

Members (except Student Members and Foreign Members) receive a free copy of Browning Institute Studies, and all members are placed on the mailing list of Through Casa Guidi Windows: The Bulletin of the Browning Institute. In addition, members are entitled to discounts on other publications of the Institute.

The Browning Institute is a nonprofit organization chartered in the State of New York. A copy of the last annual report of the Institute filed with the New York State Department of State may be obtained upon request by writing to the Office of Charities Registration, Department of State, 162 Washington Avenue, Albany, N.Y. 12231, or to The Browning Institute, Inc. at the address below.
