The Dawn of a New Era: Challenges for Baby Boomers
Nouveaux défis des « baby boomers » : La réalité du 3^e âge

CAG/ACG '99
Ottawa, Ontario
November 4-7 novembre

The Dawn of a New Era: Challenges for Baby Boomers

The CAG '99 conference in Ottawa will explore how baby boomers will deal with the new realities of aging in the coming millennium. The logo incorporates various aspects of this theme. The half sun emanating from the left side reflects the "dawn of a new era." The three leaves and their distinct shading represent the three stages of life and maturity—child, adult, and elderly—and how these age groups are intertwined in resolving the challenges that face our aging population. Ottawa, the nation's capital, is clearly reflected in the choice of the maple leaf. The pyramid of health in the background represents the three major levels of care required to enjoy quality of life: physical, psychosocial, and spiritual.

Nouveaux défis des « baby boomers » : La réalité du 3^e âge

Le congrès de l'ACG de 1999 portera sur la manière dont les baby-boomers composeront avec la nouvelle réalité du vieillissement dans le prochain siècle. Le logo représente divers aspects de ce thème. Le soleil émergeant à moitié du côté gauche figure « l'aube d'un nouvel âge ». Les trois feuilles ombrées différemment correspondent aux trois âges de la vie – enfance, âge adulte et vieillesse – et comment ces trois groupes d'âge s'entrecroisent pour résoudre les défis qu'affronte notre population vieillissante. Le choix de la feuille d'érable s'imposait de lui-même en raison de l'endroit où le congrès se déroulera, soit Ottawa, la capitale nationale. La pyramide de santé à l'arrière-plan illustre les trois niveaux de soins nécessaires pour jouir d'une qualité de vie : physique, psychosocial, spirituel.

LA REVUE CANADIENNE DU VIEILLISSEMENT

Renseignements généraux et protocole de présentation (Révision de mai 1999)

La Revue canadienne du vieillissement est une publication trimestrielle de l'Association canadienne de gérontologie, dotée d'un comité de lecture. Elle publie des articles qui portent sur le vieillissement dans les disciplines suivantes: biologie, politique et pratique sociales, psychologie, sciences de la santé et sciences sociales. La Revue accepte les comptes rendus de recherches originales ainsi que les textes conceptuels ou théoriques qui font avancer de façon appréciable les connaissances ou la vision de la gérontologie. Bien qu'elle soit une revue canadienne, les auteurs d'autres pays sont encouragés à y soumettre leur travaux de recherche. On demande aux auteurs de tenir compte de la multidisciplinarité du lectorat. Il peut s'avérer particulièrement approprié de relier certains aspects de l'analyse à d'autres domaines de savoir.

1. Présentation et acceptation des manuscrits

Les manuscrits doivent être adressés à la Rédactrice en chef: Anne Martin-Matthews, School of Social Work and Family Studies, The University of British Columbia, 2080 West Mall, Vancouver, BC V6T 1Z2.

La revue n'accepte que des manuscrits inédits qui n'ont pas été soumis à une autre revue. Les manuscrits acceptés par la RCV ne peuvent être publiés ailleurs sans autorisation (exception faites des actes de congrès).

2. Préparation des manuscrits

a. Préparation des manuscrits. On recommande l'utilisation de logiciels compatibles avec IBM. Les versions finales doivent nous parvenir en Word Perfect, à double interligne. Les articles doivent compter 3,000 à 10,000 mots que l'on soumette en cinq (5) exemplaires. Les auteurs sont priés de numérotter toutes les pages consécutivement, y compris la page de titre. Les manuscrits doivent être accompagnés d'un titre résumé qui servira dans l'en-tête contenant un maximum de 40 lettres et espaces, et six (6) mots clés pour le classement analytique.

c. Anonymat de l'auteur. La page de titre de trois des exemplaires soumis doit porter seulement le titre du manuscrit et être dépouillée de tous les autres éléments exigés.

d. Résumé. Les auteurs sont priés de fournir, sur une feuille séparée, un résumé de 100 à 150 mots. Il devra être accompagné d'une traduction anglaise, sinon les frais de traduction seront assumés par l'auteur (35 $).

e. Remerciements. Les remerciements doivent figurer sur une feuille séparée. Ils seront insérés en guise de préliminaire à la première page du texte imprimé.

f. Notes. Les notes doivent figurer à la fin du texte, immédiatement avant la bibliographie. Nous ne pouvons accepter les notes en bas de page.

g. Références. Les références doivent être conforme au protocole de l'American Psychological Association ou au protocole de Vancouver. Pour obtenir de plus amples renseignements sur ce point consulter la rédaction.

h. Tableaux. Les tableaux doivent être présentés sur des feuilles séparés.

i. Figures. Les illustrations doivent être prêtes à photographier et soumises en même temps que la version finale du texte. Format max.: 28 picas/ 4 po 5/8 lar. sur 43 picas/ 7 po 1/4 haut.

3. Disquette. Une fois le texte accepté, l'auteur doit en fournir un exemplaire sur disquette de format IBM en Word Perfect.

4. Modifications de l'auteur. Les corrections effectuées par l'auteur à la lecture d'épreuve seront portées à son compte.

5. Droits d'auteur. Les auteurs dont les articles ou les résumés sont publiés doivent céder, à certaines conditions, leurs droits d'auteur à La Revue canadienne du vieillissement.

The Canadian Journal on Aging is a refereed, quarterly publication of the Canadian Association on Gerontology. It publishes manuscripts on aging concerned with biology, health sciences, psychology, social sciences, and social policy and practice. The Journal welcomes articles reporting original research, as well as conceptual and theoretical papers which significantly advance knowledge or understanding in gerontology. Although focussed on Canadian research, manuscripts from authors outside Canada are welcome. Authors are asked to bear in mind the multi-disciplinary nature of the readership when writing their manuscripts. In particular, care should be taken to draw out the implications of the analysis for readers in other fields and other disciplines.

f. Notes. All notes should be entered as endnotes and should appear immediately before the References. Footnotes are not acceptable.

Clinical Geropsychology

Edited by Inger Hilde Nordbus, Gary R. VandenBos, Stig Berg, and Pia Frombolt

Relevant and accessible psychological services for aging adults are imperative!

Yet few mental health professionals are familiar enough with this rapidly growing population to provide quality care.

This book begins with a theoretical anchoring across perspectives on psychological and behavioral aspects of aging such as life-span development, cognitive, sociological, and physiological. Practical realities and life challenges are then explored in chapters on sexuality, marriage, family, elder abuse, dementia, depression, employment, and retirement. These chapters provide an experiential sense of problems as well as data on incidence and prevalence. The book ends with nuts-and-bolts advice on assessment and intervention for treating psychotherapy, neuropsychological assessment, nursing home programs, and caretaker interventions.
