Equality

The New Legal Framework

Bob Hepple

The Equality Act 2010 is a major landmark in the long struggle for equal rights. This book tells the story of how and why it came to be enacted, what it means, what changes it can bring about in British society, and - no less important - what the Act will not do.

The aim of this book is to examine the aims and structure of the new legal framework and to assess the Act against goals of reform set by the earlier review.

Sir Bob Hepple QC is Emeritus Master of Clare College and Emeritus Professor of Law at the University of Cambridge.

What About Law? 2nd Edn

Studying Law at University

Catherine Barnard, Janet O'Sullivan and Graham Virgo

The new edition of this book, which proved very popular when first published in 2007, provides a 'taster' for the study of law; a short, accessible presentation of law as an academic subject, designed to help 17- and 18-year old students and others decide whether law is the right choice for them as a university subject, or, if they have already made the choice, what to expect when they start their law degree. It helps answer the question 'what should I study at university?' and counters the perception that law is a dry, dull subject.

Catherine Barnard is Jean Monnet Chair in European Law, Janet O'Sullivan is Senior Lecturer in Law, and Graham Virgo is Professor of English Law, all at the University of Cambridge.

The Coalition and the Constitution

Vernon Bogdanor

The inter-party agreement between the coalition partners proposes a wide ranging series of constitutional reforms, the most important of which are fixed-term parliaments and a referendum on the alternative vote electoral system, to be held in May 2011. The coalition is also proposing measures to reduce the size of the House of Commons, to directly elect the House of Lords and to strengthen localism. These reforms, if implemented, could permanently alter the way we are governed. This book analyses the significance of coalition government for Britain and of the momentous constitutional reforms which the coalition is proposing.

Vernon Bogdanor was, until 2010, Professor of Government at Oxford University. He is now a Research Professor at King's College, London.

Academic Freedom and the Law

A Comparative Study

Eric Barendt

This book provides a critical analysis of the law relating to academic freedom in the UK, Germany and the USA. The book outlines the various claims which may be made to academic freedom by individual university teachers and by universities and other higher education institutions, and it examines the justifications which have been put forward for these claims.

Eric Barendt is Emeritus Professor of Media Law at University College London.
