

Wedding Sermons

M. A. COUTURIER, O.P.

This splendid little book on marriage consists of a collection of short sermons preached by Father Couturier at the weddings of young friends, to whom he speaks with touching tenderness and directness. Here is no self-moralising or painting of marriage in rosy tints. The author warns his young people of the spiritual foes that threaten their new and fragile love, and how these cannot be met and overcome by merely surface adjustments. The battle is an interior one and only complete integrity of soul can preserve the sanctity and loveliness of marriage. Father Couturier's tone is grave yet full of compassion and understanding of the desires of the human heart and he reveals himself as a great lover of souls.

Meister Eckehart Speaks

EDITED AND INTRODUCED BY OTTO KARRER

Here is a short introduction to, and anthology of, the devotional writings of the famous thirteenth-century Dominican mystic, Meister Eckehart. Texts from his writings deal with many aspects of the spiritual life and the editor presents them together with an introductory article not only on Eckehart's outward life, but his spiritual development also.

Baptized in Christ

A. M. CARRÉ, O.P.

This book on the Sacrament of Baptism was written especially with the ordinary public in mind and is presented in a way that will appeal to the everyday Catholic. Father Carré here explains all the major aspects of baptism, the baptism of Jesus, re-birth, the priesthood of Christ, the Holy Ghost, the Church, and Christ. Necessarily limited in its content, this book is nevertheless a penetrating study of one of the Sacraments which is at the heart of our Faith, and shows clearly that being the Sacrament of initiation into the Church it is the first means of salvation.

BOOKS FOR LENT AND EASTER

THE PAIN OF CHRIST GERALD VANN, O.P.
Under the author's guidance we relive the scenes surrounding the Passion and death of Christ. We are taken back to the garden in which the Redeemer kneels in agony. We are shown the Mother of God painfully silent in her grief, and we are led to the presence of the two thieves, each of whom understands what the mercy of God could do for him. 5s.

NO ABIDING CITY BEDE JARRETT, O.P.
'Paper covered, 70 or so odd pages, first published over 20 years ago, over 30,000 copies sold already. No Abiding City is surely due now for another 10,000 or 20,000 sales. Fr Bede Jarrett does not date or age, despite his easy almost familiar style. These Lenten conferences are as good and readable today as when first published in 1934.'
—Catholic Herald. 5s.

THE LAST WEEK A DOMINICAN TERTIARY
'Here is a book of meditations on the last week of Our Lord's life leading up to the Stations of the Cross. Quotations from the Scriptures, the saints, the doctors and the poets are woven together skilfully. Such a book will be of great assistance in arousing the right thoughts when we are saying the sorrowful mysteries or making the Stations.'—Southern Cross. 4s. 6d.

THE HOUSE OF GOLD BEDE JARRETT, O.P.
This is a reprint of some Lenten sermons of a famous preacher whose personal holiness, no less, than his eloquence, attracted many. There are sermons on Life's Temptations, on the Forgotten Family and discourses for Good Friday, Holy Saturday and the Resurrection. 9s. 6d.

THE IRISH DOMINICANS

by Dr D. D. C. Pochin Mould

pp. 300; 83 plates; 12 sketches; bound Balacuir, 3 colour paper cover of painting of Sligo Abbey. price 21s.

Dr D. D. C. Pochin Mould for this, as for her other books, travelled indefatigably to the varied scenes of Irish Dominican labour from 1224 to 1957. Thus absorbing the spirit as well as picturing the events of the Order's apostolate for over seven centuries, she gathers the threads of its history told in ruins, traditions, chronicles and archives, and with expert pen weaves them into the whole which makes fascinating reading, and presents for the first time an entire new chapter of the history of Catholic Ireland in its triumphs, tribulations and resurgence.
