International Theory

A Journal of International Politics, Law and Philosophy

journals.cambridge.org/int

Editors

Duncan Snidal, University of Chicago
Alexander Wendt, The Ohio State University

Launching in 2009, International Theory invites papers on theory of all varieties and from all disciplines, provided it addresses problems of politics, broadly defined and relates to the international.

International Theory welcomes scholarship that uses evidence from the real world to advance theoretical arguments. However, it is intended as a forum where scholars can develop theoretical arguments in depth without an expectation of extensive empirical analysis.

Full instructions for contributors can be found here: journals.cambridge.org/int/ifc

Manuscripts for consideration or any queries should be sent by email to the Editors at it.mershon@osu.edu

International Theory is published with the support of the

A UNIQUE VOLUME OF ENORMOUS IMPORTANCE TO ANYONE IN COMPARATIVE POLITICS

Hardback / $120.00 | 808 pages / 58 tables | ISBN: 978-0-521-51466-8

Where is the power? Students of politics have pondered this question, and social scientists have scrutinized formal political institutions and the distribution of power among agencies of the government and the state. But we still lack a rich bank of data measuring the power of specific governmental agencies, particularly national legislatures. This book assesses the strength of the national legislature of every country in the world with a population of at least a half-million inhabitants. The Legislative Powers Survey (LPS) is a list of 32 items that gauges the legislature's sway over the executive, its institutional autonomy, its authority in specific areas, and its institutional capacity. Data were generated by means of a vast international survey of experts, extensive study of secondary sources, and painstaking analysis of constitutions and other relevant documents. Individual country chapters provide answers to each of the 32 survey items, supplemented by expert commentary and relevant excerpts from constitutions.

The question of faith's place in modern intellectual life never has seemed more pressing in academia or popular culture. While specialists have abandoned simplistic versions of the "secularization thesis," which predicted that religion would crumble inexorably under the weight of advancing science and reason, best-selling atheistic critics still lament religion's influence, deny its philosophical viability, and predict its ultimate demise. Meanwhile, scholars have demonstrated the surging strength of both Christianity and Islam in non-western parts of the world, and the persistent religiosity in the United States. Accordingly, this symposium will consider religion's place in modern thought and culture from the eighteenth to the twenty-first century.

Possible themes to be explored include the following, though other paper or session proposals on specific topics, questions, or books are encouraged:

- The Enlightenment and its critics
- Romanticism and its implication for faith, art, politics, and culture
- Evangelical, charismatic, or fundamentalist revival
- Democracy and religion
- Ethics and religion
- The New Atheism
- Resacralization vs. secularization theory
- Gender, race, and class dynamics of secularization and revival
- Religion as a colonial or indigenous force
- Globalization and religion
- Religion and the modern university
- Faith and reform movements
- Faith and the arts in contemporary culture

Abstracts of 500-750 words should be submitted no later than June 1, 2009, and should include name, affiliation, address, and e-mail address. Please submit proposals to the Institute for Faith and Learning, Baylor University, One Bear Place #97270, Waco, TX 76798, or by e-mail to IFL@baylor.edu.

BOOK REVIEWS. All correspondence regarding book reviews should be sent to Professor Peter R. Moody, Jr. at the above address.

MANUSCRIPT LENGTH. Normal length of published manuscripts is 8,000-11,000 words. The entire manuscript, including notes and quotations, should be double-spaced.

Author anonymity. Because manuscripts are evaluated anonymously they should not bear the author's name or institutional affiliation. Please remove all references or acknowledgments that might indicate the identity of the author.

Abstract and keywords. All article submissions should include an abstract of 100-150 words.

MANUSCRIPT PREPARATION AND STYLE. The Review of Politics follows the Chicago Manual of Style for standards of citation, punctuation, and other editorial considerations.

Figures and tables. Appendices, tables, and figures should be numbered consecutively throughout the article and be included on separate pages appearing after the reference section. Each figure must be submitted electronically as a separate file. Electronic versions should be submitted as TIFF or EPS files at 100% of a suitable final size. Charts, graphs, or other artwork should be professionally rendered and computer generated.

COPYEDITING AND PAGE PROOFS.

The publisher reserves the right to copyedit and proofread all articles accepted for publication. Page proofs of an article will be sent to the lead author of an article for correction of typographical errors only; authors must notify the publisher or the editorial office of any changes within 72 hours of receipt of proof or approval will be assumed.

COPYRIGHT TRANSFER AGREEMENT.

Papers with multiple authors are reviewed with the assumption that all authors concur with its submission. A Copyright Transfer Agreement, with certain specified rights reserved by the author, must be signed and returned to the Editor by senior authors of accepted manuscripts, prior to publication. The Review of Politics does not accept manuscripts for review that are under review elsewhere, previously published, or already committed for publication.
