

ANNOUNCEMENT

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF FINANCE
UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON

A position of Assistant Professor of Finance may be available beginning in the 1982-83 academic year. We desire a person with the capability and desire to engage in original research in business finance, investments, or in financial institutions, and with excellent teaching abilities. A strong background in economics and in quantitative methods or econometrics is required. Visiting positions are also likely to be available. There is a possibility of hiring at the Associate or Full Professor level if the individual is exceptional.

As an equal opportunity employer, the department is especially interested in making the availability of this position known to minorities and women. Candidates should write to Professor Peter A. Frost, Acting Chairman, at the address below enclosing a vita sheet, a summary of courses taken, a cover letter indicating research and teaching interests, and the names of four references of which at least three should be in academic positions. In addition, candidates should enclose available examples of recent research.
