Catholic Theories of Biblical Inspiration since 1810

A Review and Critique

JAMES T. BURTCHAELL

Fr Burtchaell traces the background of the controversy and the contribution of the leading Catholic theologians in Europe from the foundation of the Tübingen school in 1810 until the papal condemnation of 'Modernism' in 1907. He goes on to assess the effect of this condemnation on the course of the debate during the first half of this century and suggests that much of the present theorizing by Catholics on inspiration is only a hesitant presentation of ideas that were more boldly advanced by progressive thinkers a century ago. 70s. net

The Targums and Rabbinic Literature

JOHN BOWKER

The Targums are interpretative translations of the Hebrew text of the Bible, originally used orally in synagogue teaching for the benefit of non-Hebrew speaking congregations. Mr Bowker examines the importance of the Targums in the development of Jewish biblical exegesis. 75s. net

Israel in the Apostolic Church

PETER RICHARDSON

A historical study concerned with the adoption by Christianity of Jewish prerogatives and attributes, and in particular with its assumption of the name 'Israel'. Dr Richardson claims that this was not a simple development but one which took place over a long period. £4 net

The Gospel of Signs

A Reconstruction of the Chief Narrative Source Underlying the Fourth Gospel

ROBERT TOMSON FORTNA

The recent emergence of redaction-criticism as a method of gospel research has given new impetus to the need to recover, as far as possible, any source which the Fourth Evangelist used in composing his gospel. In this book Professor Fortna attempts to give a methodological clarity to Johannine source criticism in general with a critical and stylistic analysis of the narratives of the Gospel. Professor Fortna finally applies stylistic tests to establish the purity and integrity of this reconstructed hypothetical document, and briefly discusses its literary and theological character. 95s. net

The Archeology of the New Testament

The Life of Jesus and the Beginning of the Early Church

Jack Finegan

A photograph, map, or diagram illustrates the text for every site described in this pilgrimage to Palestine, beginning with places connected with John the Baptist and proceeding to Bethlehem and Nazareth, Samaria and Galilee, Jerash, Caesarea, Jericho, the Mount of Olives, Jerusalem, and Emmaus. An authoritative guide to the Holy Land, the book is also a reference tool and a volume for devotional reading.

The New Temple

THE CHURCH IN THE NEW TESTAMENT
R. J. McKelvey

The New Temple is a study of one of the neglected images of the church in the New Testament. It considers the significance of the temple in the Ancient Near East and the meaning of the temple concept in Jewish literature. The New Testament use of the image is examined at length, and similarities and differences in regard to extraneous traditions are noted. 42/- net

A Patristic Greek Lexicon

FASCICLE 5: ADDENDA ET
CORRIGENDA

The purpose of the Patristic Greek Lexicon is to provide a summary history of the use of all theologically important words by the Greek Christian writers of the period from the Apostolic Fathers to A.D. 800. It illustrates the lexical history of theological terms and gives as full an account as possible of words important from their treatment in Biblical exegesis. This fascicle completes the work. Each fascicle 84/- net (available separately only until October 1970). Fascicles I–V in one volume £22 net
