Classical Archaeology and the Ancient Historian

JONATHAN M. HALL

"Hall is one of our very best archaeo-historians. . . . Like many of the best books in his field, this series of acutely researched and shrewdly argued case studies is firmly based on his teaching at the University of Chicago and will be a boon for instructors and students alike."—P. A. Cartledge, author of After Thermopylae

NEW FROM KNOPF

"Exciting and revelatory. . . . Matchless. . . . [A] rare thing."

—The New York Times Book Review

"A detailed portrait of the Parthenon as seen through what Connelly calls 'ancient eyes.'"

—The Washington Post

James Romm's Dying Every Day seamlessly weaves together the life and written words of Seneca the Younger and the perverse, paranoid regime of Emperor Nero, despot and madman.

Greece & Rome

Published for The Classical Association

Editors

John Taylor, Tonbridge School, UK
Vedia Izzet, University of Southampton, UK
Robert Shorrock, Eton College, UK

Greece & Rome is a journal which delivers scholarly research to a wider audience. It showcases original and informative articles on ancient history, literature, art, archaeology, religion, philosophy, and reception of the ancient world. Although its content reflects current research and its contributors include leading figures in the field, undergraduates and general readers who wish to be kept informed of current thinking will also find it engaging and accessible, as well as professional scholars in Classics and in other disciplines. With the wider audience in mind all Greek and Latin quotations are translated.

A subscription to Greece & Rome includes an annual supplement of New Surveys in the Classics.

The Journal of Roman Studies

Editor

Gregory D. Woolf, University of St Andrews, UK

The Journal of Roman Studies (JRS) has appeared annually for a century, and is widely recognised as the premier UK journal in its field. Peer-reviewed papers on Roman history and Latin literature form the larger part of each issue. Papers on art history and archaeology are also published. JRS regularly includes major review articles and archaeological surveys, along with one of the widest selections of reviews of recent publications in all scholarly languages. The journal seeks to publish articles with wide implications for our understanding of the Roman world. JRS papers have stimulated debates in fields as diverse as Roman democracy, the scale of the Roman economy, the demographic implications of slavery, and the materiality of the book. Recent contributors have been drawn from all over Europe and North America. The journal has a wide international readership made up of scholars, students and members of the general public.

THE CLASSICAL ASSOCIATION

The Classical Association has a worldwide membership and is open to all who value the study of the languages, literature, and civilisations of ancient Greece and Rome. It creates opportunities for friendly exchange and co-operation among classicists, encourages scholarship through its journals and other publications, and supports classics in schools and universities. Every year it holds an annual conference, and it sponsors branches all over the country which put on programmes of lectures and other activities.

The Classical Association has about 3,500 members. Members receive the Presidential Address once a year and a newsletter, CA News, twice a year. They may also subscribe at substantially reduced cost to the Classical Association journals Classical Quarterly, Classical Review, and Greece & Rome.

For more information and a membership application form please contact the Secretary, The Classical Association, 44 Park House, 15–23 Greenhill Crescent, Watford WD18 8PH (tel. 01923 239300, e-mail: office@classicalassociation.org). The Secretary can also give information about the reduced journal subscription rates, and about the Association's other occasional publications.

THE CLASSICAL REVIEW ONLINE

The Classical Review publishes informative reviews from leading scholars on new work covering the literatures and civilizations of ancient Greece and Rome. Publishing over 300 high-quality reviews every year, The Classical Review is an indispensable reference tool, essential for keeping abreast with current classical scholarship.

This journal issue has been printed on FSC-certified paper and cover board. FSC is an independent, non-governmental, not-for-profit organization established to promote the responsible management of the world's forests. Please see www.fsc.org for information.
