Have You Joined an MLA Forum?

Forums are groups that represent areas of scholarly and professional interests for MLA members. In addition to providing a community of scholars with whom you can share your work, forums offer opportunities to participate in guaranteed convention sessions and—through forum delegate elections—ensure breadth of representation in the MLA Delegate Assembly.

Members may choose up to five primary forum affiliations. Selecting a forum allows you to vote in its forum delegate election—and you can join the affiliated MLA Commons group, where members post calls for papers and share scholarship and teaching resources.

To select your primary forums, visit My MLA between 15 December and 15 October.
