

FROM THE EDITOR

Letter from the Slavic Review Editor:

Now more than ever, it is appropriate and important for me to thank the anonymous peer reviewers, who, in the midst of tech-enabled (and thus more difficult) teaching and administrative work, care of family members, sometimes involving home schooling, and the sheer strain of our ongoing health crisis and other, larger problems—nonetheless generously give of their time to write detailed, engaged, and helpful reports on manuscripts submitted to Slavic Review. The work of this journal could not continue without you. Thank you.
