People on the Move: The Nature and Scope of a Global Phenomenon

Nikolas A. Stavrou, Julius A. Ndumbe, and Raymond C. Ewing, special issue editors

On an annual basis, approximately 100 million people either attempt to or actually do leave their place of birth, often not knowing their final destination. The flow of immigrants who arrive in neighboring countries in search of refuge and work raises social, political, and security concerns. This special issue of Mediterranean Quarterly takes a closer look at a pattern of history that is at the core of current global instability—the mass migration of peoples.

Transforming American Medicine:
A Twenty-Year
Retrospective on
*The Social Transformation of American Medicine

Over twenty years ago Paul Starr's Pulitzer Prize-winning book The Social Transformation of American Medicine stimulated scholars to take stock of medicine's historical trajectory. From the vantage point of two decades since its publication, this special double issue considers—from the diverse viewpoints of health policy analysts, law scholars, medical professionals and historians, and sociologists—the import of Starr's influential work and the meaning of the social changes that his book portrayed.
