The Contested Legacy of Louis Hartz

Edited by Mark Hulliung

“An intellectual delight. These essays begin by wrestling with the legacy of a great book and end up offering us a grand tour of the American mind. Along the way, the authors explore our national history, culture, discourse, mythology, bigotry, politics, and academic life.”

—James Morone, author of The Democratic Wish and Hellfire Nation

American Political Thought

Journal of Global History addresses the main problems of global change over time, together with the diverse histories of globalization. It will also examine counter-currents to globalization, including those that have structured other spatial units. The journal will seek to transcend the dichotomy between 'the West and the rest', straddle traditional regional boundaries, relate material to cultural and political history, and overcome thematic fragmentation in historiography.
