The Brussels I Review Proposal Uncovered

Edited by Eva Lein

- Published June 2012
- ISBN-10: 1-905221-48-6
- ISBN-13: 978-1-905221-48-6
- Paperback
- £50 (£30 BIICL Members)

"The book will be a valuable guide to the issues, and a pointer to the way in which some might constructively be resolved. It is my pleasure to commend it to the many practising and academic lawyers, insurers, business people and others interested directly or indirectly in issues of jurisdiction or of recognition and enforcement of foreign judgments."

THE RIGHT HON THE LORD MANCE

The Brussels I Regulation (EC) No 44/2001 on jurisdiction and the recognition and enforcement of judgments in civil and commercial matters is one of the most important instruments of European Private International Law. Despite its overall success, some shortcomings have been perceived during its first ten years of application and have prompted the drafting of a Review Proposal by the European Commission. The Proposal addresses issues such as the relationship between the Regulation and arbitration, the compatibility of its provisions with the 2005 Hague Convention on Choice of Court Agreements, and the extension of the Brussels I rules on jurisdiction to third State defendants. These issues and more are analysed and debated in this book by academics and practitioners from various Member States and institutions, including the Hague Conference on Private International Law and the European Group for Private International Law (EGPIL). Their insightful commentary on the Commission's plans for amendment of the Brussels I Regulation is an excellent resource for anyone dealing with issues of cross-border civil litigation.

Fighting Corruption in Public Procurement

A Comparative Analysis of Disqualification or Debarment Measures
Sope Williams-Elegbe

Anti-corruption measures have recently taken centre stage in the development agenda of international organisations as well as in developed and developing countries. One area in which corruption manifests itself is in public procurement and, as a result, States have adopted various measures to prevent and curb corruption in public procurement. One such mechanism for dealing with procurement corruption is to debar or disqualify corrupt suppliers from bidding on or otherwise obtaining government contracts. This book examines the issues and challenges raised by the debarment or disqualification of corrupt suppliers from public contracts in the European Union, the United Kingdom, the United States, the Republic of South Africa and the World Bank.

Sope Williams-Elegbe is a Research Fellow at Stellenbosch University, South Africa.

Transnational Terrorism and State Accountability

A New Theory of Prevention
Vincent-Joël Proulx with a Foreword by Bruno Simma

Every State has an obligation to prevent terrorist attacks emanating from its territory. This proposition stems from various multilateral agreements and UN Security Council resolutions. This study exhaustively addresses the scope of this obligation of prevention and the legal consequences flowing from its violation, so as to provide greater clarity on governments' counterterrorism duties and to enhance State accountability for preventable wrongs. It defines the contents and contours of the obligation while placing critical emphasis on the mechanics of State responsibility.

Vincent-Joël Proulx is a Legal Officer at the International Court of Justice and a Barrister and Solicitor of the Ontario Bar.

The Settlement of International Disputes

Basic Documents
Compiled by Christian Tams and Antonios Tzanakopoulos

This book is the first widely-available collection of key documents on dispute settlement. It brings together a large number of primary sources on the peaceful settlement of disputes in a usable and affordable format. The documents included reflect the diverse techniques of international dispute settlement, as recognised in Articles 2(3) and 33 of the UN Charter, such as negotiation, mediation, arbitration and adjudication. The book comprises the most relevant multilateral treaties establishing dispute settlement regimes, as well as examples of special agreements, compromissory clauses, optional clause declarations and relevant resolutions of international organisations.

Christian J Tams is Professor of International Law at the University of Glasgow.

Antonios Tzanakopoulos is Lecturer in International Law at University College London and the University of Glasgow.

Rose Heilbron

The Story of England's First Woman Queen's Counsel and Judge
Hilary Heilbron

Rose Heilbron QC, (later Dame Rose Heilbron) was an English Barrister, one of the two first women Queen's Counsel in 1949 and the first woman Judge in England in 1956 when she became Recorder of Burnley, who became a world famous icon of the 1950's and 1960's. This biography, written by her daughter Hilary, also a Barrister and Queen's Counsel, charts her rise to prominence and success against the odds, excelling as an advocate and lawyer and later as a High Court Judge.

Hilary Heilbron is the only child of the late Rose Heilbron and herself a Barrister and Queen's Counsel.
