Great Decisions '84, by FPA's editors, is all you need to take part in the program.

This 96-page, magazine-size paperback is divided into eight articles, one on each topic. Each article includes:

- objective background and current data
- the Administration's policy
- pros and cons for alternative choices available to U.S. policy-makers
- suggested readings and questions for discussion
- illustrations (charts, graphs, photographs, cartoons and maps)
- opinion ballots—national ballot report is prepared in the Spring and sent to the nation's elected leaders.

1984 is the 30th year that the national, non-partisan Foreign Policy Association will offer Americans an opportunity to study, discuss and express their informed views on eight of the most important foreign policy issues facing the U.S.

The topics on the cover of the Great Decisions '84 book (see left) will be discussed by individuals meeting in homes, clubs, businesses, libraries, community centers, schools, colleges and universities across the nation.

You too can . . .

- form your own discussion group (free Handbook tells you how)
- volunteer to be a resource person at ongoing groups in your community
- introduce Great Decisions to your church as an informal discussion program for all who wish to be better informed about today's world
- use Great Decisions in classes you teach (free Guide describes college and community programs)
- order the book for your own background and briefing.
