NOTICE TO MEMBERS: The United States Postal System does not forward periodicals. We must receive written notification from you at least five weeks in advance of any change of mailing address. Failure to notify us of your correct mailing address will result in suspension of your membership mailings until we receive such notification. We can make address changes only when current dues are paid. Domestic claims for non-receipt of issues must be made to the Association's office within six months of the month of publication (overseas claims, one year). Copies of the Review damaged in the mail will be replaced without charge.

The African Studies Review is published three times a year (April, September, and December) by the African Studies Association, Credit Union Building, Emory University, Atlanta, Georgia 30322, U.S.A. Articles in the Review represent neither the views of the African Studies Association nor those of its officers; responsibility for opinions expressed and for the accuracy of facts published rests solely with the individual authors. The publishers of the African Studies Review assume that contributors to the journal are literate in the English language, coherent in thought, and conversant with the principles of scholarship. The publisher has not copyedited this material; responsibility for copyediting is entirely the author's.

CONTRIBUTORS

BOGUMIL JEWSIEWICKI, past president of the Canadian Association of African Studies and from 1979, co-editor of the Canadian Journal of African Studies, taught in Zaire for nine years and is now teaching at Laval University, Quebec City, Canada. After 10 years of research on the economic history of 20th-century Zaire, he is now working on the social and intellectual history of Zairian societies. He has also published and edited volumes on the historiography of African studies.

LYNN KRIEGER MYTELKA is professor of political science at Carleton University and a senior research associate in applied economics at the Centre des Etudes et de Recherches sur les Entreprises Multinationales (LAREA/CEREM) of the Université de Paris-X (Nanterre). The author of several books and articles on industry in Africa and on the strategy of multinational corporations and the process of technological change in industry, Professor Mytelka is currently completing a book, Strategic Partnerships: States, Firms and International Competition.

Her recent work also includes articles on industrial rehabilitation in the Côte d'Ivoire, technological change in the global textile and clothing industries and the evolution of strategic partnerships in the European information technology industry. She has served as consultant to, among others, the Canadian International Development Research Centre (IDRC), the French Commissariat General du Plan, UNIDO, UNCTAD, UN Economic Commission for African and the OECD.
