

WORLDVIEW

DIARY OF A DOOMED LAND

Denis D. Gray

SALT & CARTER'S DILEMMA

Gary L. Guertner

HOW THE RUSSIANS LOOK AT SALT

Walter C. Clemens, Jr.

SADAT'S TRAGIC MISTAKE:

Ismail Fahmy

INTERVIEW WITH EGYPT'S FORMER FOREIGN MINISTER

CHRISTIANS BETWEEN ARABS & JEWS

George Lindbeck

LAW & THE RIGHTNESS (& WRONGNESS) OF THINGS

Richard John Neuhaus

LAW, RELIGION, & THE PRESENT DANGER

Harold J. Berman

& Peter L. Berger, Tracy Early, Ronald Jager, Eileen Egan, Abraham Martin Murray, Joan Landsbergis, Sidney A. Rand

COMING

"What will the USSR settle for?" asks PAUL MOJZES. His hopeful argument is that the Russians, like the Americans, are "maturing" toward global ambitions that are sharply curtailed by a sense of limits.... "I want rotten bourgeois democracy!" declares PAUL GOMA, a leading Rumanian dissident, in a forthright statement about the limited choices offered by our kind of world.... ANTHONY LAKE views environmental problems, "The Quiet Crisis," from the planning desk of the State Department.... MIRIAM and IVAN LONDON present provocative new evidence on their path-breaking studies of hunger in the People's Republic of China.... WALTER C. CLEMENS, JR., explains why there may now be a "rebirth of the intelligentsia" in the Soviet Union.... And much more. Clearly, this is the issue with which to begin a gift subscription to a friend or friendly library.

FOUNDED IN 1914 BY ANDREW CARNEGIE