

THE CLASSICAL ASSOCIATION

THE objects of the Classical Association are to promote the development and maintain the well-being of classical studies, and in particular (a) to impress upon public opinion the claim of such studies to an eminent place in the national scheme of education; (b) to improve the practice of classical teaching; (c) to encourage investigation and call attention to new discoveries; (d) to create opportunities for intercourse among lovers of classical learning.

Membership of the Association is open to men and women alike. The annual subscription is 5s. (life composition, £3 15s.), and there is an entrance fee of 5s. (not charged to Libraries). Members receive a copy of the annual Proceedings of the Association and, on payment of 2s. 6d., of The Year's Work in Classical Studies (both post free). "These maps of Mr. Murray's are far better than anything which has yet been attempted in the direction of teaching the physical features of ancient geography, and they deserve all attention from students and schoolmasters."

READY SHORTLY

THE MAKING OF LATIN

By R. S. CONWAY, Litt.D.

PROFESSOR OF LATIN IN THE UNIVERSITY OF MANCHESTER; HON. FELLOW OF GONVILLE
AND CAIUS COLLEGE, CAMBRIDGE.

Crown 8vo. 5s. net.

This little book is intended to offer to all learners and teachers of Latin a simple account of the growth of the language, so that on the one hand their Latin reading may be enriched with the fresh interest of knowing more of the original meanings of the words and idioms which they have so far known only in their conventional uses; and that on the other hand, from tracing in the case of Latin the kind of changes which are always going on in human speech, they may gain at least a glimpse of the fascinating contribution which the study of language has made to the history of the races of Italy and England, and, indeed, to our general ideas of the growth of humanity.
