TRÜBNER'S ORIENTAL SERIES.

MESSRS. TRÜBNER & CO. beg to call attention to their ORIENTAL SERIES, in which will be collected, as far as possible, all extant information and research upon the History, Religions, Languages, Literature, etc., of Ancient India, China, and the East in general.

The ORIENTAL SERIES will be on a comprehensive design, and no labour or expense will be spared to render the undertaking worthy of its subject. Messrs. TRÜBNER & Co. have already secured the services of eminent Eastern students and writers; and while the labour proposed must necessarily prove vast, they intend to accomplish it by working with many able hands over the whole field, under careful and well-organized Editorship.

The following Works are now Ready:—

Second Edition. Post 8vo. cloth, pp. xvi. and 427. Price 16s.

Texts from the Buddhist Canon

COMMONLY KNOWN AS

Dhammapada.

Translated from the Chinese by S. BEAL, B.A., Professor of Chinese, University College, London.

Among the great body of books comprising the Chinese Buddhist Canon, presented by the Japanese Government to the Library of the India Office, Mr. Beal discovered a work bearing the title of "Law Verses, or Scriptural Texts," which on examination was seen to resemble the Pali version of Dhammapada in many particulars. It was further discovered that the original recension of the Pali Text found its way into China in the Third Century Anno Domini, where the work of translation was finished, and afterwards thirteen additional sections added. The Dhammapada, as hitherto known by the Pali Text edition, as edited by Fausböll, by Max Müller's English, and Albrecht Weber's German translations, consists only of twenty-six chapters or sections, whilst the Chinese version, or rather recension, as now translated by Mr. Beal, consists of thirty-nine sections. The students of Pali who possess Fausböll's Text, or either of the above-named translations, will therefore need want Mr. Beal's English rendering of the Chinese version; the thirteen above-named additional sections not being accessible to them in any other form: for, even if they understand Chinese, the Chinese original would be unobtainable by them.

The History of Indian Literature.

BY ALBRECHT WEBER.

Translated from the German by JOHN MANN, M.A., and THEODOR ZACHARIAE, Ph.D.

With the sanction of the Author.

Dr. BÜHLER, Inspector of Schools in India, writes:—"I am extremely glad to learn that you are about to publish an English Translation of Professor A. Weber's 'History of Indian Literature.' I trust that the work which you are now publishing will become a class-book in all the Indian Colleges, as it is the first and only scientific one which deals with the whole field of Vedic, Sanskrit, and Prakrit literature."

Professor COWELL, of Cambridge, writes:—"The English translation of Professor A. Weber's 'History of Indian Literature' will be of the greatest use to those who wish to take a comprehensive survey of all that the Hindoo mind has achieved. It will be especially useful to the students in our Indian Colleges and Universities."

Professor WHITNEY, Yale College, Newhaven, Conn., U.S.A., writes:—"I am the more interested in your enterprise of the publication of Weber's Sanskrit Literature in an English version, as I was one of the class to whom the work was originally given in the form of Academic Lectures."

THE

Modern Languages of the East Indies.

BY ROBERT CUST.

The Author has attempted to fill up a vacuum, the inconvenience of which pressed itself on his notice. Much had been written about the languages of the East Indies, but the extent of our present knowledge had not even been brought to a focus. Information on particular subjects was only to be obtained or looked for by consulting a specialist, and then hunting down the numbers of a serial or the chapters of a volume not always to be found. It occurred to him that it might be of use to others to publish in an arranged form the notes which he had collected for his own edification. Thus the work has grown upon him.

ORIGINAL LETTERS AND PAPERS

OF THE LATE

VISCOUNT STRANGFORD,

UPON

Philological and Kindred Subjects.

EDITED BY VISCONTRESS STRANGFORD.

In the highest rank among philological students the name of the late Lord Strangford claims a place. Profoundly versed in the living languages of the East, he spoke and wrote Turkish, Persian, and Arabic, with the greatest fluency, no less than also Hindustani and Afghan. His Lordship's great speciality was Modern Greek, in which he was universally admitted to be facile princeps. Indeed so thoroughly was he master of the subject that he would at once recognize, from his language, the locality of the home of the Greek with whom he chanced to be talking.

His knowledge of all the Slavonic languages was supreme. Indeed he greatly admired, among Oriental Christians, the peaceful and industrious Bulgarian herdsman and agriculturist. Acquainted thoroughly with all the dead and living languages of Europe, he was admitted by all to be a chief authority in all matters appertaining to Celtic. Lithuanian also claimed a great portion of his attention, and he did not even ignore the various dialects of the Gipsy tribes. He possessed an intuitive perception as regards linguistic subjects which was all but unequalled, and this combined with his power of diction enabled him to present the most abstruse linguistic problems in such a clear light and agreeable form that every reader of culture—whether a linguist or not—could follow him with pleasure and profit.

Linguistic scholars, to whom these facts are well known, will therefore be sure to welcome the appearance of these "remains," under the editorial care of Lady Strangford.

As will be seen from the annexed TABLE OF CONTENTS, beyond his contributions which have already appeared in the Journal of the Royal Asiatic Society, the Saturday Review, the Pall Mall Gazette, and other channels, the volume will also contain numerous unpublished papers and essays, and letters written by his Lordship to Professor Max Müller, Mr. Freeman, and others connected with his favourite pursuit.

ORIENTAL RELIGIONS,

AND THEIR RELATION TO UNIVERSAL RELIGION.

BY SAMUEL JOHNSON.

I.—INDIA.

"The reader who is curious in the history of opinions will hardly find a more instructive guide in the obscure labyrinth into which he is tempted by the study of Oriental reasonings and fancies. Mr. Johnson has thoroughly mastered the subject of which he treats, by the thoughtful researches of many years."—New York Tribune.

"The comprehensiveness of its scope, its careful summaries and analyses, make it an addition to the literature of theology that cannot fail of attracting the attention and provoking the criticism of scholars; while it will not be found either too recondite or too obscure for the thoughtful general reader."—Boston Transcript.
