ECONOMIC POLICY

 Cambridge
Journals

SENIOR EDITORS:

Georges de Menil, Paris

Richard Portes, London

Economic Policy offers a uniquely independent, non-partisan European forum for analyses of topical issues in economics. Articles are specially commissioned from leading international economists and policy advisors that provide up to date, non-technical analyses of current research on specific policy questions. Economic Policy has established itself as a medium that can identify emerging policy problems early, publish papers in response to those findings in time to influence policy as well as establish itself as an indispensable source of analysis for future issues in economic affairs.

Selected papers

Bargaining structure, institutions and macroeconomic performance, Lars Calmfors & John Driffill

Mexico: Stabilization, debt and growth, Rudiger Dornbusch

The price of nuclear power, George Yarrow

Perestroika: Transition from central planning to market socialism, Domenico Mario Nuti

Insider trading, Mervyn King & Ailsa Roell

What caused the rise of conservatism: A French view, Daniel Cohen

Economic Policy (ISSN 0266-4658) is published semi-annually. Subscription to Volume 4, 1989 (US and Canada only): $38.00 for institutions; $19.00 for individuals; single parts $19.00. Back Volumes: 1-3 (1986-1987) $38.00 each.

ECONOMETRIC THEORY

EDITOR:

Peter C. B. Phillips, Yale University

CO-EDITORS:

Alberto Holly, University of Lausanne

Adrian Pagan, University of Rochester

David Pollard, Yale University

Halbert White, University of California, San Diego

Econometric Theory is a new international journal whose central aim is to advance theoretical research in econometrics. From its inception, ET has broken new ground as a scientific journal with many innovations. Prominent among these are its high level professional interviews with senior scholars in statistics and econometrics. Now entering its fourth year of publication ET is

- compelling reading for a wide audience of econometricians and statisticians;
- an authoritative outlet for theoretical research in econometrics;
- strengthening lines of communication with scientists in related fields and sister disciplines like mathematical statistics and probability;
- continuing its successful series of professional interviews;
- promoting theoretical research whose application potential has a long time horizon;
- serving a direct pedagogical role with expositional reviews of technical research and with an active Problems and Solutions Series; and
- providing timely in depth book reviews of important new texts and monographs.

Econometric Theory (ISSN 0266-4666) is published three times a year. Subscriptions to Volume 5 (1989): $99.00 for institutions; $57.00 for individuals; single parts $35.00.

Back Volumes: 1-4 (1985-1988) $105.00 each

ECONOMICS AND PHILOSOPHY

 Cambridge
Journals

EDITORS:

Daniel Hausman, Carnegie-Mellon Univ.
Michael McPherson, Williams College

Economics and Philosophy is designed to foster collaboration between economists and philosophers and to bridge the increasingly artificial disciplinary boundaries that divide them. Frequently, economists acknowledge that their work in both positive and normative economics depends on methodological and ethical commitments that demand philosophical study and justification. Philosophers increasingly insist that philosophy of science must be informed by and tested against studies of current science and of its history, while ethics and political philosophy must depend on what we know about human aims and interests and about the principles, benefits, and drawbacks of different forms of social organization.

Selected papers:

Property and Hunger, Amartya Sen

Utility-Enhancing Consumption Constraints, David Levy

How to Combine Rhetoric and Realism in the Methodology of Economics, Uskali Mäki

Economic Methodology: Rhetoric of Epistemology?,
Steven Rappaport

Economics Is Too Important to Be Left to the Rhetoricians, Alexander Rosenberg

Economics and Philosophy (ISSN 0266-2671) is published twice a year. Subscription to Volume 5, 1989 (US and Canada only): $52.00 for institutions; $28.00 for individuals; single parts $28.00.

Back Volumes: 1-3 (1985-1987) $54.00 each.

Important Journals from Cambridge

Economic Policy

Editors: Georges dé Menil and Richard Portes

Published on behalf of the Centre for Economic Policy Research and La Maison des Sciences de l'Homme, Economic Policy offers a uniquely independent, non-partisan European forum for analysis of topical issues in economics. Articles are commissioned from leading international economists and policy advisers and are discussed by a panel of eminent economists whose comments in summary follow each paper. The journal discusses the entire range of macro- and microeconomic issues. Two parts per year.

Econometric Theory

Editor: Peter Phillips

Econometric Theory is an international journal dedicated to advancing theoretical research in econometrics. In addition to articles on original theoretical research, the journal publishes historical studies on the evolution of econometric thought. Each issue contains a 'Problems and Solutions' section and publishes pedagogical papers dealing with educational issues and which discuss new approaches to teaching econometrics. Three parts per year.

Economics and Philosophy

Editors: Daniel M. Hausman and Michael S. McPherson

Papers in Economics and Philosophy explore the foundations of economics as both a predictive/explanatory enterprise and a normative one. They examine the relevance of economic techniques, methods and conclusions to philosophical questions in ethics and social theory. The journal fosters collaboration between economists and philosophers and bridges the artificial boundaries between them. Two parts a year.
