THE QUINTESSENCE OF MAURICE CRANSTON SARTRISM

Cranston writes: "I would not myself claim that Sartre is the greatest philosopher of the twentieth century. But I might be tempted to agree with the view, which I have heard suggested, that Sartre is the only philosopher of the twentieth century; if by the word philosopher we mean someone like Plato or Rousseau or Hegel . . ."

Cranston has held the chair of Political Science at the London School of Economics since 1968. He was visiting professor of Government at Harvard in 1965 and again in 1969.
