“More than half of America’s most prominent philanthropists have serious policy interests: they are seeking to inform, advocate for or against, or reform the implementation of public policy through [their] donations.”

—Kristin A. Goss, from “Why Political Scientists Should Study Organized Philanthropy”

About APSA

Founded in 1903, the American Political Science Association is the leading professional organization for the study of political science and serves more than 13,000 members in over 80 countries. With a range of programs and services for individuals, departments, and institutions, APSA brings together political scientists from all fields of inquiry, regions, and occupational endeavors within and outside academe in order to deepen our understanding of politics, democracy, and citizenship throughout the world.

The direct advancement of knowledge is at the core of APSA activities. We promote scholarly communication in political science through a variety of initiatives including publishing three distinguished journals: American Political Science Review, Perspectives on Politics, and PS: Political Science & Politics.

MEMBER OF THE MONTH!

The American Political Science Association Member of the Month program recognizes and highlights member achievements and professional milestones.

It is a celebration and appreciation of the outstanding contributions our members make to the community through their scholarship and teaching, championship of the profession, and support of APSA and its programs.

The APSA Member of the Month program recognizes one member each month. Nominations for the award (including self-nominations) may be submitted by members and nonmembers of APSA using the form available here: www.apsanet.org/motm

Eligibility Requirements:

1. Individuals must be a current member of APSA (all member types are eligible).
2. Individuals must have been a member of APSA at least one year.
3. Individuals may only be eligible to receive recognition once per calendar year.

Completed nomination forms should be submitted online to membership@apsanet.org or in hard copy to: APSA Membership, 1527 New Hampshire Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20036. Forms submitted after the 15th of each month will be considered for the following month.
