

Editorial announcement

Limitations of space have prevented me from publishing all the material that was sent to press and made up for this issue. The following articles and reviews have been taken over by my successors and will be published in the next volume of the Journal. ARTICLES: Y. Kachru, 'A note on possessive constructions in Hindi-Urdu'; K. E. Zimmer, 'On the evaluation of alternative phonological descriptions'. NOTE: P. N. Johnson-Laird, '&'. REVIEWS: C. F. Hockett, The State of the Art (F. W. Householder); P. Lieberman, Intonation, Perception and Language (R. Vanderslice); V. Z. Panvilov, Grammar and Logic (J. M. Anderson). SHORTER NOTICES: Y. Kachru, An Introduction to Hindi Syntax (W. E. Jones); P. Kratochvil, The Chinese Language Today (R. L. Cheng); R. W. Langacker, Language and its Structure (J. J. Christie); W. P. Lehmann, A Reader in Nineteenth-Century Historical Linguistics (D. Crystal); G. Nickel, Die Expanded Form in Altenglischen (C. J. E. Ball); J. Svartvik, On Voice in the English Verb (J. McH. Sinclair).

As I complete my term of office, I should like to express my appreciation of the assistance given to me by members of the Editorial Board, by Cambridge University Press and the printers. I should also like to thank E. K. Brown, E. C. Fudge and P. G. Trudgill, who have helped me with the correction of proofs and in other ways in the last five years, and those of my friends and colleagues whose contributions to the first few issues did so much to establish the current reputation of the Journal of Linguistics.

Edinburgh, July 1969

JOHN LYONS