

Electoral Studies

Joint Editors: Iain McLean, University of Warwick and Bo Sarlvik, University of Goteborg, Sweden

Months of Publication: March, June, September and December

Electoral Studies is an international journal serving the rapidly growing number of scholars concerned with voting, the central act in the democratic process. Political theorists have ascribed to elections the roles of legitimizing, providing for the orderly transfer of power and making policy choices. Political scientists and other pragmatic observers have studied the impact of electoral systems, and also the specific legal rules concerning voting and campaigning.

Mathematicians, statisticians and game theorists have been drawn to the study of voting and electoral strategy, and, like students of mass behaviour and media activity, have found here a unique opportunity to exercise their analytical specialities.

POLICY AND POLITICS

Policy and Politics is the quarterly international journal which provides a real insight into the origins, implementation and impact of public policy.

Policy and Politics combines scholarly analysis with a multi-disciplinary approach and is focusing increasingly on European and international policy debates.

Policy and Politics is published by SAUS at the University of Bristol, a department noted for its commitment to bridging the gap between theory and practice in the development and analysis of policy.

Policy and Politics features in-depth articles on policy topics including employment, education, health, housing, social and urban policy as well as analysing the key themes of: equity and equality, efficiency and effectiveness, monitoring and evaluation, implementation and impact.

THE JOURNAL OF COMMONWEALTH AND COMPARATIVE POLITICS

Editors David Potter, The Open University, Milton Keynes, UK
Arnold Hughes, University of Birmingham, UK

Long established as the leading publication in its field, The Journal of Commonwealth and Comparative Politics contains scholarly articles which both report original research on the politics of Commonwealth countries and relate their findings to issues of general significance for students of comparative politics. The journal also publishes work on the politics of other states where such work is of interest for comparative politics generally or where it enables comparisons to be made with Commonwealth countries.

Notes for Contributors

- 1 All contributions should be sent to: The Editors, British Journal of Political Science, University of Essex, Wivenhoe Park, Colchester, Essex CO4 3SQ. They should not be sent to the Cambridge University Press or to the Editorial Assistant.
- 2 Articles submitted to the Journal should in general be between 5,000 and 12,000 words (or equivalent in tables and figures) in length. An abstract not exceeding 120 words is required.
- 3 Notes and Comments are welcome. A Note should contain a body of original information, a new method for doing something or a new idea (speculation, argument, proof, etc.) presented in a brief and unadorned form without inessential commentary. Comments containing criticisms of articles published in the Journal and additional thoughts on them will be considered for early publication, especially if they are short – say, under 1,000 words.
- 4 Most issues of the Journal contain a Review Article – either a detailed discussion of a single book or a review of the state of some area of the discipline. Review Articles submitted without prior consultation will be considered for publication, but in their own interest contributors would be well advised not to prepare a Review Article specially for the Journal without first getting in touch with the Editors.
- 5 Contributors should note the Journal's editorial policy, which is as stated inside the front cover.
- 6 Authors of articles and Review Articles receive twenty-five free offprints. Additional copies may be bought if they are ordered at proof stage.
- 7 Submission of an article is taken to imply that it has not been previously published and is not being considered for publication elsewhere. In the interest of authors, copyright is normally assigned to the Cambridge University Press.
- 8 Authors should submit FOUR COPIES of their articles. Contributions must be typed and may be reproduced in any clearly legible form. The preferred size of paper is A4 (8¼ × 11½ in), but quarto (8 × 10 in) or the US standard size (8½ × 11 in) will also be accepted. Because of postage costs, manuscripts not accepted for publication are not normally returned to the authors unless their return is specifically requested.
- 9 The entire material of any article, including footnotes, quotations, appendices, etc., should be double spaced, with left-hand margins of at least 1½ in. The preferred treatment of footnotes is that they should be numbered consecutively in the text and typed double spaced all together at the end, beginning on a fresh page.
- 10 Anyone who is preparing a manuscript for submission to the Journal is urged to follow the Journal's style sheet, which covers a number of detailed points concerning footnotes, punctuation, spelling, etc. Copies of the style sheet can be obtained from the Editor. Footnote references should always contain, in the case of books, the name of the author as it appears on the title page, the full title including any subtitle, the place of publication, the name of the publisher and the date of publication, and, in the case of articles, the name of the author, the full title, the name of the journal, the volume number, the year and the page reference (number of first and last page).
- 11 First proofs may be read and corrected by contributors provided that they can give the Editor an address through which they can be reached without delay and can guarantee to return the corrected proofs to the Editor, by air mail where appropriate, within ten days of receiving them. The master proof will always be sent directly to the Editor by the printer; contributors will receive duplicates.
