

Forthcoming Articles

Marc Allen Eisner (Wesleyan University), "Institutional History and the Origins of Policy Change: Exploring Changes in Antitrust Policy"

Samuel B. Hoff (Delaware State University), "The Presidential Pocket Veto: Its Use and Legality"

Sanford Lakoff (University of California, San Diego), "Desert Snowstorm: Revisionism and the Gulf War"

William Gienapp (Harvard University), "The Myth of Class in Jacksonian America," with responses from Iver Bernstein and Herbert Hovenkamp

Special Issues

Donald T. Critchlow (Saint Louis University), Birth Control and Reproduction (Winter 1995)

New from Penn State Press

GREATNESS IN THE WHITE HOUSE

Rating the Presidents

Robert K. Murray and Tim H. Blessing

Second Edition, Updated through Ronald Reagan

“Murray and Blessing have picked up the baton, as it were, from Schlesinger as the recorders of temporal evolution in the opinions of historians regarding U.S. presidents. The results of their recent update poll, subsequent to the publication of [the first edition of] Greatness in the White House, of just under five hundred historians—the first such poll to include Ronald Reagan—were presented at a meeting of the Organization of American Historians in April, 1991. . . . The most ambitious objective of studies of presidential greatness, suggested in the authors’ summary, is to identify the characteristics which make a successful president, in order to predict the performance of candidates. Murray and Blessing provide a fairly comprehensive survey of the studies that attempt this.”

—Maryland Historical Magazine

Praise for the first edition:

“Greatness in the White House provides us with the latest of the presidential polls, and the finest. . . . In seven chapters and a concluding section, [Murray and Blessing] discuss the ratings game, past polls as well as their own. Successive chapters follow on appearance, background, character, personality, and administrative achievements—as rating criteria—and reactions to presidential rankings.”

—The Historian

192 pages cloth: $30.00 paper: $14.95

PENN STATE PRESS

Barbara Building, Suite C
University Park, PA 16802
(814) 865-1327

MasterCard/VISA orders, call toll-free 800-326-9180

