

- LUCIAN W. PYE is Ford Professor of Political Science at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. His most recent books are The Dynamics of Chinese Politics and Chinese Commercial Negotiating Styles.
- JAMES REARDON-ANDERSON is East Asian Librarian at Columbia University.
- ROBERT S. ROSS is assistant director and research associate at the East Asian Institute, Columbia University, and teaches Chinese politics and the international relations of East Asia at Columbia University.
- JIANZHONG TANG is an instructor in the Department of Geography at the East China Normal University, Shanghai, People's Republic of China.
- R. H. TAYLOR is a lecturer in politics with reference to South-east Asia. His recent publications include Marxism and Resistance in Burma, 1942-45.
- TANG TSOU is Homer J. Livingston Professor in Political Science, University of Chicago. He is the author of America's Failure in China, the co-editor and contributor to China in Crisis. His book The Cultural Revolution and Post-Mao Reforms will be published by the University of Chicago Press in 1986.
- MARTIN KING WHYTE is professor of sociology and an associate of the Center for Chinese Studies, University of Michigan. He has written on both rural and urban social life in China and is now working on mate choice and marriage relations in the United States and China.
- EDWIN A. WINCKLER researches East Asian political and economic development. FRANCES WOOD completed a Ph.D. thesis on late traditional domestic architecture in the Beijing area in 1984. She is head of the Chinese section in the British Library.
- XUEQIONG XU teaches urban geography and urban planning in the Department of Geography, Zhongshan University, Guangzhou, People's Republic of China.

Erratum

The biographical details of Dr R. H. Taylor are as listed above and not as published in issue No. 103.