The Empire of Fashion

Dressing Modern Democracy
Gilles Lipovetsky

Translated by Catherine Porter
With a foreword by Richard Sennett

In a book full of playful irony and striking insights, the controversial social philosopher Gilles Lipovetsky draws on the history of fashion to demonstrate that the modern cult of appearance and superficiality actually serves the common good. Bounding across two thousand years of history, Lipovetsky argues that today's mass-produced fashion offers many choices, which in turn enable consumers to become complex individuals within a democratically educated society.

New French Thought

Political Philosophy

Edited by Mark Lilla

The past fifteen years in France have seen a remarkable flourishing of new work in political philosophy. This anthology brings into English for the first time essays by some of the best young French thinkers writing today. The central theme of these essays is liberal democracy: its nature, its development, its problems. The introduction by Mark Lilla provides historical background to the revival of French political thought about liberalism, and offers an analysis of what American and English readers can learn from it.

Paper: 14.95 ISBN 0-691-00105-7
Cloth: $45.00 ISBN 0-691-03434-6

An Intellectual History of Liberalism

Pierre Manent

Translated by Rebecca Balinski
With a foreword by Jerrold Seigel

Highlighting the social tensions that confront the liberal tradition, Pierre Manent draws a portrait of today's citizens of modern liberal democracies. Through quick-moving, highly synthetic essays, Manent explores the development of liberal thinking in terms of a single theme—the decline of theological politics—and, in so doing, raises important questions about the fundamental political issues of our day.
