TO THOSE WISHING TO SUBMIT MANUSCRIPTS

Three copies of any article or note should be submitted, and at least one copy must be in a form suitable for sending to the printer. Footnotes should be double-spaced and placed at the end of the manuscript. Library of Congress transliteration should be used. In general, articles should not exceed twenty-five pages, except where especially justified, e.g., by extensive documentation, tables, or charts. Manuscripts will not be returned unless specifically requested and postage is provided. The policy of the Slavic Review is not to consider materials that have been published or that are being considered for publication elsewhere.

Publication of articles in the Slavic Review is ordinarily limited to those submitted by members of AAASS. Nonmembers wishing to submit manuscripts are asked to request a membership application.

Authors who wish to have their manuscripts considered anonymously should request so explicitly and prepare manuscript copies accordingly.

RUSSIAN ART AND AMERICAN MONEY, 1900-1940

Robert C. Williams

Williams has pieced together the incredible story of how Tsar and Commissar alike sold priceless art treasures to Americans such as Armand Hammer and Andrew Mellon for political leverage and needed hard currency.

This is a true detective story filled with con men, mystics, diplomats, and entrepreneurs that will fascinate anyone interested in the major role art plays in foreign affairs. $17.50 illustrated
