INSTRUCTIONS FOR CONTRIBUTORS

Send manuscripts and books for review to the editorial office. Manuscripts should run 6,000–11,000 words (or approximately 30–35 pages), not including endnotes, and should be printed double-spaced in 11- or 12-point font; endnotes must follow Chicago Manual of Style, 16th edition, and be printed double-spaced on separate pages following the text. The editors request an electronic submission (email attachment preferred, but cd-rom discs also accepted) of the following items:

(1) the manuscript (in order to protect the author's anonymity during the review process, the author's name should appear only on the title page of the essay);

(2) a 200-word abstract (this is used during the review process and if Church History publishes the essay, the abstract may be included on the Church History web page at www.churchhistory.org).

Please see www.churchhistory.org/churchhistoryguidelines.html for further manuscript submission guidelines. The editors will consider submissions of 70–90 pages for publication as “extended articles.” Persons wishing to submit such manuscripts should query before sending them.

The Sacrament of Penance and Religious Life in Golden Age Spain

Patrick J. O'Banion

"Safeguarded by a seal of silence, the sacrament of penance will always maintain its secrets. Patrick O'Banion's thoughtful and readable study, however, provides numerous insights into this practice and its uses by lay Catholics in early modern Spain. His careful reading of a wide variety of sources, notably Inquisition records, reveals the manifold ways in which Spaniards embraced the sacrament but also navigated their way through a complex, dynamic, and surprisingly flexible confessional culture. This impressive book will be of great interest to scholars of religious change, state building, and the construction of individual and collective identities in the early modern Catholic world."

This Far by Faith Tradition and Change in the Episcopal Diocese of Pennsylvania

Edited by David R. Contosta

"This volume not only notes the contributions of the various bishops but also focuses on lay leadership, institutional growth, and areas of conflict. It seeks to pay attention to the role of women and racial minorities; attempts to provide detailed demographic data; and endeavors to set events in the life of the church in the general social context. Episcopalians in the Diocese of Pennsylvania, students of American church history, and social historians should all find it to be a useful work."

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

The Journal of Ecclesiastical History

Editors

James Carleton Paget, University of Cambridge, UK
Diarmaid MacCulloch, University of Oxford, UK

The Editors and Editorial Board of The Journal of Ecclesiastical History are delighted to announce a major new prize in the field of early Christian History.

The Journal is offering an annual prize of £500 for the best essay submitted on a subject connected with any aspect of early Christian history, broadly understood as including the first seven centuries AD/CE. Scholars in any relevant discipline (theology, classics, late antique studies, Middle Eastern Studies etc.), whether established in their field or graduate students, are encouraged to enter the competition. The essays should not exceed 8,000 words, including footnotes, and for 2014 should be submitted by 30th September 2013. A judgement will be made at the end of November of the same year (the editors reserve the right not to award the prize if no essay of significant quality is submitted). The essay of the successful candidate will be published in the Journal, probably in the number appearing in July 2014. Other submissions entered into the competition may also be recommended for publication. All essays should be sent as two hard copies, prepared to journal style, to Mrs. Anne Waites, The Journal of Ecclesiastical History, Robinson College, Cambridge CB3 9AN.

Ecclesiastical Law Journal

Published for The Ecclesiastical Law Society

Editor

Mark Hill QC, Cardiff University, UK

The Ecclesiastical Law Journal publishes articles on all aspects of ecclesiastical law. Particular emphasis is given to the regulation of the Church of England and worldwide Anglican Communion, but the range of coverage includes comparative studies of the laws of other faiths and of the interface between law and religion in a global perspective. Through its regular Comment section, the journal provides a critical analysis of emergent trends written by distinguished scholars and practitioners in Europe and North America. The journal also includes book reviews and summaries of recent ecclesiastical cases determined by both secular and church courts, together with a parliamentary report, a brief summary of the proceedings of national Synods, and resumé of major international conferences.
