PUBLIC INTERNATIONAL LAW

Edited by SAM BLAY,
RYSZARD PIOTROWICZ, and
MARTIN TSAMENYI

This new textbook offers a contemporary and authoritative account of international law as viewed from an Australian perspective. Featuring contributions from a variety of Australian scholars and practitioners, it has been designed especially for use by undergraduate students of law.

MIGRANT WORKERS IN INTERNATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS LAW

Their Protection in Countries of Employment

RYSZARD CHOLEWINSKI

This timely work evaluates the international protection of the rights of migrant workers and their families in various countries of employment, focusing on their economic, social, cultural, political, and residential rights. The book examines the rights of migrant workers as aliens in general international human rights law, and details the specific efforts and measures of the International Labor Organization and the United Nations. It concludes with a comprehensive case-study of the multifarious standards adopted under the auspices of the Council of Europe and the European Union to protect this increasingly vulnerable group of human beings.

MAKING COMMERCIAL LAW

Essays in Honor of Roy Goode

Edited by ROSS CRANSTON

This collection of essays honors the work and thought of Roy Goode, the Norton Rose Professor of English Law at Oxford and highly esteemed commercial law scholar. The contributors, an international group of distinguished commercial lawyers, address such topics as international contracts and sales, credit and security, and commercial arbitration.

INTERNATIONAL ENVIRONMENTAL LAW, POLICY, AND ETHICS

ALEXANDER GILLESPIE

This bold and innovative new study argues that nations, like individuals, are creating environmental laws and policies that constantly invite failure. The author asserts that such failure stems from the ways in which these environmentally motivated actions are riddled with inconsistencies and ultimately contradictory in purpose.

IMPLEMENTING THE URUGUAY ROUND

JOHN H. JACKSON and ALAN O. SYKES

The importance of the issues raised by the WTO Agreement cannot be over-estimated. The completion of the Uruguay Round of negotiations has resulted in the creation of international agreements which themselves raise issues of great difficulty and importance in legal terms—issues of practical importance for international trade in goods and services and for the entire field of Intellectual Property Rights. This book examines the implementation of the GATT agreement, and its national and international legal and constitutional ramifications.

INTRODUCTION TO THE PROBLEMS OF LEGAL THEORY

A Translation of the First Edition of the Reine Rechtslehre or Pure Theory of Law

HANS KELSEN

Translated by BONNIE LITSCHESKI PAULSON and STANLEY L. PAULSON

One of the leading legal philosophers of this century, Hans Kelsen first published this short treatise in 1934, when the neo-Kantian influence on his work was at its zenith. Of Kelsen's many statements of the Pure Theory, this one is surely the most accessible. Topics covered include the legal norm and Kelsen's normativity thesis, law and morality, the role of ideology, the concept of the legal person, legal interpretation, the identities of law and state, and the theory of international law.

Basic Documents, Volume II

FRANZ KNIPPING,
HANS VON MANGOLDT, and Edited by
VOLKER RITTBERGER

In collaboration with RALPH DIETL

In 1995, amid much fanfare, the UN celebrated its 50th anniversary, ensuring that both public and scholarly interest in this ever-crucial field of international politics are particularly high at this time. This two-volume set, reproducing several official documents—such as charters, statutes, and other legal instruments—provides easy access to the legal bases of international organizations.

INTERNATIONAL LAW CONCERNING CHILD CIVILIANS IN ARMED CONFLICT

JENNY KUPER

Each year, many thousands of children are killed, injured, or otherwise harmed as a result of armed conflicts. There is a considerable body of international law which aims to minimize the harm inflicted on these children, and yet it is little known or observed. This book, the first major text focusing exclusively on child civilians, increases awareness of the relevant laws in order to improve the protection of such children.

LAW MAKING, LAW FINDING, AND LAW SHAPING

Volume II: The Diverse Influences

Edited by B. S. MARKESINIS

The second volume in an annual series based on lectures held at the Center for European Law Studies in Oxford, this volume examines the respective roles in the legal process of judges, legislators, academics, and regulators, as well as the ways in which these players influence one another. Each group was represented at the lectures, and both the diversity of experience and the depth of knowledge of those in attendance are in evidence throughout this book.

SELF-DETERMINATION AND NATIONAL MINORITIES

THOMAS D. MUSGRAVE

This thoroughly researched book explores the relationship between self-determination and minority rights in international law. Highly detailed in its treatment of the subject, this volume looks at recent events, such as the atrocities in the former Yugoslavia, and provides the reader with a clarification of the legal issues involved.

THE IDEA OF HUMAN RIGHTS

Four Inquiries

MICHAEL PERRY

"[This] is in my view the best thing that this unusually thoughtful legal scholar has yet done. It is hardly possible to exaggerate the importance of the central idea that he is pursuing: that to speak, as so many claim to do, of 'human rights' from a purely secular perspective may well not make any sense. His willingness to confront the implications of 'the death of God' is precisely what is absent from so much moral, legal, and political rights talk."—Paul Campos, University of Colorado (Boulder)

THE CONCEPT OF INTERNATIONAL OBLIGATIONS ERGA OMNES

MAURIZIO RAGAZZI

This is the first monograph on the idea of obligations erga omnes, an increasingly important concept in contemporary international law. Maurizio Ragazzi employs a pragmatic approach that identifies five common elements among the examples of obligations erga omnes given by the International Court. These five properties are then discussed comparatively.

THE STATE OF THE WORLD'S REFUGEES, 1997

UNITED NATIONS HIGH COMMISSIONER FOR REFUGEES

While the plight of uprooted populations continues to be a matter of pressing humanitarian concern, the problem of forced displacement has also assumed a much broader political significance. Refugee movements are undoubtedly a symptom of the injustices and inequities that afflict our world, and are also having an increasingly significant impact on the search for regional and global security. This invaluable book from UNHCR analyzes the international community's evolving response to the problem of forced displacement, focusing on such issues as the rights of asylum seekers, the protection of refugees and internally displaced people, the challenge of repatriation and reintegration, and the reduction of statelessness.

Editorial Policy and Guidelines for Submission of Documents and Introductory Notes

Editorial Policy

International Legal Materials is a collection of current documents designed to provide up-to-date information to scholars, practicing lawyers, legal advisers to government agencies and corporations, national and international officials, and others concerned with the legal aspects of public and private international relations. These documents primarily consist of current materials not readily available in most libraries.

The term international law is interpreted broadly for the purposes of this publication. Some of the materials may be of a kind normally classified under other rubrics, such as foreign law, comparative law, conflict of laws, constitutional law, international organization, and the like. The main criterion of the Editorial Advisory Committee in selecting materials is that the documents be of substantial interest to a large number of legal scholars, practicing lawyers and officials dealing with public and private international matters. It is recognized that these interests may vary considerably among users of the publication in the United States and elsewhere.

International Legal Materials reproduces by photo-offset the official documents whenever possible. In some instances, the documents are reproduced from unofficial typescript when texts are unavailable or when a translation is given. A short "I.L.M. Background/Content Summary" precedes each document to assist in reviewing the materials. On occasion, "Introductory Notes" also accompany documents. The authors of such notes are identified.

Readers are invited to draw the Editor's attention to documents meriting reproduction in International Legal Materials.

Submission of Documents

Readers are invited to submit documents that would be of interest to the international legal community. International Legal Materials reproduces by photo-offset the official text of a document whenever possible; if the official version is not available in English, an unofficial translation is acceptable. The original language text must accompany unofficial English translations. The source of the document, e.g., a government department, a court, an embassy or an official gazette, should be clearly identified.

Submission of Introductory Notes

Readers are also invited to submit brief Introductory Notes to accompany documents in I.L.M. Introductory Notes are intended to provide background information for the document they accompany. They should be objective, without judgmental commentary. For example, Introductory Notes for treaties might include a short history of the negotiations, the dates of signature and entry into force; for legislation, its history and international significance; for judicial proceedings, the background of the case and a citation to the full text in the original language; for reports and other documents, background information as to the document's significance. If within the text of the document there are references to other documents, their relevance should be briefly explained in the Introductory Note.

Format

Introductory Notes should be between 750 and 1250 words in length. Both Introductory Notes and unofficial translations should be typed single-spaced with double-spacing between paragraphs. Authors and translators may send an additional copy of their submission on an IBM-compatible diskette. I.L.M. uses WordPerfect.

A statement giving the author's name, title, address, telephone and fax numbers must accompany all submissions.

Acceptance of Materials and Corrections

Submissions cannot be returned. Authors and translators will be notified of the acceptance of their Introductory Note or translation as soon as possible. Once a submission has been accepted for reproduction, the American Society of International Law will send the author or translator a Publication Agreement. Authors and translators will be acknowledged in I.L.M.

In some cases minor editorial or typographical alterations may be made without contacting author or translator. Major corrections will be sent to the author or translator for approval. Corrected Introductory Notes or translations should be returned as soon as possible.

ERRATUM

The Convention on the Prohibition of the Use, Stockpiling, Production and Transfer of Anti-Personnel Mines and on their Destruction, 36 I.L.M. 1507, was mistakenly attributed to the United Nations. This document was formulated through the “Ottawa” process, by a number of States acting outside the U.N. framework. ILM regrets any confusion this oversight might have caused.
