Zygon

Journal of

RELIGION & SCIENCE

ZYGON represents a unique attempt to interpret and revitalize the religious and the sacred in life by means of scientific language and understanding. At a time when "facts" and "values" have become dangerously disjoined, ZYGON seeks a unification of the two; a "yoking" (Zygon) necessary if human culture is to survive and evolve in an age of science. Because its goal is the integration of two multi-faceted ways of approaching the world, ZYGON publishes papers from a wide range of disciplines, including such authors as: natural scientists Garrett Hardin and Roger W. Sperry; social scientists Donald T. Campbell and Karl H. Pribram; philosophers Abraham Edel and F. S. C. Northrop; and scholars of religion John W. Bowker and Wolfhart Pannenberg. Recent and upcoming theme issues include Reason and Religion, Beyond Chance and Necessity, Is Ethics a Science?, New Light on Is/Ought, and Sociobiology and Religion.

The journal was founded in 1966 by Ralph Burhoe, Research Professor Emeritus in Theology and the Sciences, Meadville/Lombard Theological School, and recipient of the 1980 Templeton Prize for Progress in Religion. ZYGON is now edited by Karl E. Peters, Associate Professor of Philosophy and Religion at Rollins College.

ZYGON is published on a quarterly basis. Individual subscriptions are $14 for one year; overseas subscribers must add $1.50 per year to cover extra postage.

Studies Review

Religious

A publication like Religious Studies Review has been needed for a long time in our field. We now have in the Review a thoroughly responsible organ dedicated to reviewing the critical books in the field of religion and related disciplines—it is high time and many of us are very, very grateful for it:

Sally McFague, Dean, Vanderbilt Divinity School

Religious Studies Review is a sign of maturity in the discipline, and a guide to the wealth of resources now available. Its scholarly approach and critical stance provide perspective in an area tempted to live beyond its means.

*Joseph C. McLelland, Dean, Faculty of Religious Studies
McGill University*

Religious Studies Review dramatically documents the extent to which American scholarship in religion has come of age after having achieved corporate self-consciousness only so recently. In the Review Essays each issue of RSR bristles with material relevant for anyone concerned with religious studies in its wider scope, while the Notes on Recent Publications, organized according to topic areas, provide prompt contact with the stream of books and monographs that continue to emerge from presses throughout the world. The listing of recently completed Dissertations in Religion is an added bonus.

*Robert A. Kraft, Chairperson, Department of Religious Studies
University of Pennsylvania*

I have become an enthusiastic, regular reader of Religious Studies Review. It keeps me abreast of scholarly developments and current literature in my own and in other fields in a helpful, readable way.

*Robert T. Handy, Academic Dean and Professor of Church History
Union Seminary, New York, and Adjunct Professor of Religion
Columbia University*

THE MYTH OF CHRISTIAN BEGINNINGS

Robert L. Wilken

In this challenging, vividly written book, Professor Wilken argues that the apostolic age is a creation of the Christian imagination. There is no original Christian faith, no native language, no definitive statement of the meaning of Christ for all times. There never was a Golden Age when the church was whole, perfect, pure. In light of this, Professor Wilken concludes that Christianity should forgo its preoccupation with the past and become a much more forward-looking movement.

A COMMUNITY OF CHARACTER: Toward a Constructive Christian Social Ethic

Stanley Hauerwas

Recognized as one of the leading theological ethicists in the country, Hauerwas applies his theory of the narrative formation of Christian character to the field of social ethics in A Community of Character. He advances his ideas by showing why any consideration of the truth of Christian convictions cannot be divorced from the kind of community the church is and should be.
