

WESTMINSTER

books of Christian History

A new, revised edition of

Protestantism in America

A NARRATIVE HISTORY

By JERALD C. BRAUER. Martin E. Marty has called this book "basic for those who want to understand American religious life." Now up-dated, it takes into account all the exciting developments of the 1950's and 1960's—including the growing dialogue with Rome and the Eastern Churches. $3.95

A new volume (XXVI) in the Library of Christian Classics

English Reformers

Edited by T. H. L. PARKER. Selected writings by Jewel, Foxe, Tyndale, Ponet, Hooper, Cranmer, Taverner, Ridley, and Latimer—with a General Introduction on the nature of the English Reformation. $6.50

A new volume in the New Testament Library

The Rule of Qumran and Its Meaning

By A. R. C. LEANEY. A new translation—with the fullest commentary ever published—of one of the most important of the Dead Sea Scrolls. $7.50

Reformed Confessions of the Sixteenth Century

Edited by ARTHUR C. COCHRANE. The first collection in English of the twelve principal Confessions of Faith of the Reformed Churches of the 16th century. An invaluable reference. Paper-bound, $3.50

Now at your bookstore. THE WESTMINSTER PRESS®
Witherspoon Building, Philadelphia, Pa. 19107

Essays in Modern English Church History

In Memory of Norman Sykes

Edited by G. V. BENNETT, New College, Oxford, and J. D. WALSH, Jesus College, Oxford. Little-known and interesting facets of English church history are explored in these scholarly essays, which range from Sir Thomas More's Utopia and the influence of John Colet, through the Elizabethan debate on episcopacy, the collapse of Puritanism and the evangelical revival, to the Victorian church. The contributors are: G. R. Cragg, R. W. Greaves, J. H. S. Kent, T. M. Parker, H. C. Porter, E. G. Rupp, and W. D. J. Cargill Thompson, in addition to the editors. $5.75

The Victorian Church 1829-1860

By OWEN CHADWICK, Selwyn College, Cambridge. A leading authority on the subject and the period presents "a new and refreshing treatment of the main themes of English ecclesiastical history in the early decades of the last century . . . both an example of the writing of history at its best and a new understanding of the nineteenth-century background of many of the issues that confront the Church today."
—POWEL MILLS DAWLEY, General Theological Seminary, New York.
Volume V of An Ecclesiastical History of England. $12.50

At your bookseller

OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS / New York

A HISTORY OF EARLY CHRISTIAN LITERATURE

By EDGAR J. GOODSPEED

Revised and enlarged by ROBERT M. GRANT

“. . . the development of Christian thought and life can never be understood from the New Testament alone. Early Christian literature is an indispensable aid for its understanding. The rise of the rites, creeds, doctrines, clergy, and liturgy is reflected here, in that heroic age when Christianity moved through persecution and conflict to become the religion of the empire.”—From Goodspeed's Preface.

When Goodspeed's A History of Early Christian Literature appeared in 1942, it was hailed for its “clarity, brevity, and accuracy.” Tracing the rise of Christian literature from Paul and the Evangelists down to Constantine, Eusebius, and the Nicene Council of 325 A.D., Goodspeed combined meticulous accuracy with creative insight.

In this new edition, Robert M. Grant has incorporated newly discovered Christian texts, and fresh studies of older works, while maintaining the Goodspeed flavor. The new edition, like the original, is intended not only for research students but for anyone concerned with the literary achievements of the early Christians.

“. . . an invaluable book of reference—the last word upon an important field of study.”—WILBUR L. CASWELL, Churchman.
“. . . deals extensively with the early Christian literature in a manner both illuminating and entertaining . . . much valuable and interesting information.”—Christian Science Monitor.
214 pages Cloth, $5.95 Paper, $1.95

UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO PRESS

Chicago/London

5750 Ellis Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60637

In Canada, University of Toronto Press