SAMOTHRACIAN REFLECTIONS ✂

Aspects of the Revival of the Antique

PHYLLIS and KARL LEHMANN

These three essays were inspired by the authors' discoveries at Samothrace. The first deals with Cyriacus of Ancona's visit to the island and his assessment of what he saw; the second is the first detailed and comprehensive analysis of Mantegna's Parnassus; the third is a discussion of the iconographic type of the ancient ship-foundation. Illus. Bollingen Series XCII. $20.00

ARCHAEOLOGICAL DECIPHERMENT

A Handbook

E.J.W. BARBER

E.J.W. Barber brings together archaeology, mathematics, computer programming and linguistics to provide the first comprehensive theory and method for working with ancient undeciphered texts. Every effort is made to explain each technical problem so that it is comprehensible to the layman or programmer yet gives precise information to the specialist. $15.00

THE ARCHAEOLOGY OF MISSOURI, I Carl H. Chapman

Focusing on Early Man and Archaic periods, Chapman examines the cultural adaptation of Missouri's first inhabitants. The Introduction describes methodology and terminology used, with a background on the first migration to North America. He divides the state into six geographic regions to study the variations and progressive changes in climate, topography, soils, fauna, and flora. From evidences of early men—projectile points and other tools, hunting and ceremonial sites, and caves and rock shelters—Chapman speculates on the ways these early people utilized the environment and how distinct cultures developed. In addition to tables and charts, he includes detailed illustrations and photographs of artifacts, projectile points, excavations, and sites of each area. $20.00
