Journal

IRAQ is a refereed journal devoted to studies of the history, art, archaeology, religion, economic and social life of Iraq, and to a lesser degree of the neighbouring countries where they relate to it, from the earliest times down to about AD 1750. Texts concerning these subjects, with translations and comments, will be considered; exclusively philological articles will not be accepted. Copyright is held by The British Institute for the Study of Iraq.

Contributors

Articles can be written in English, French or German. Wherever possible, articles should be submitted on disc or by email in both .doc and .pdf format. Please leave any formatting to a minimum; your hard copy will be marked up by the editors to conform with house style. Illustrations should be submitted on CD in JPEG or TIFF format at a minimum of 300 dpi, or as clear prints of photographs or strong outline drawings in ink. Laser-quality print-outs of complicated computer-generated tables or graphics would be appreciated.

Abbreviations follow those currently accepted in the journals Orientalia and Archiv für Orientforschung. Be sure to include the following as end-matter: (a) a full list of references or a bibliography, (b) an abstract of about 100 words suitable for translation into Arabic, and (c) your address and email for academic purposes.
