

17. COMMISSION DE NOMENCLATURE LUNAIRE

PRÉSIDENT: M. TURNER, University Observatory, Oxford, England.

MEMBRES: Mlle Blagg, MM. G. Bigourdan, W. H. Pickering, P. Puiseux.

This Committee originated before the War, when in December 1905 the late Mr S. A. Saunder drew attention to the very unsatisfactory state of Lunar Nomenclature (M.N., R.A.S. 46, 41), concluding that "If a remedy is to be found which will meet with universal assent—and nothing short of this would be a remedy at all—it is obvious that it must be the work of an international Committee" (loc. cit. p. 44).

Of the Committee consequently appointed by the International Association of Academies at Vienna in 1907, consisting of Loewy (Chairman), Franz, Newcomb, Saunder, Weiss and Turner (Secretary), to which were subsequently added W. H. Pickering, Baillaud and Puiseux, there are but few surviving members: but they were naturally taken as the nucleus for the Committee of the present International Union which has taken over the work; and with the invaluable help of Miss M. A. Blagg which had already been freely accorded long before she was formally added to the Committee in 1919, much of the preparatory work necessary for the taking of definite decisions has now been done. For such preliminary work it seemed scarcely necessary to enlarge the Committee: but if the time has now come when authoritative decisions are to be taken, it seems advisable to add to the Committee the names of such leading astronomers as would give the decisions proper weight. Perhaps the selection of suitable names would be most appropriately entrusted to the Executive Committee with, possibly, confirmation by the Union in General Assembly. The question whether the proper moment has arrived is a somewhat delicate one: some leading countries have not yet joined the Union which would be an argument for further delay: but on the other hand some workers are already proposing a number of new names, the difficulty of dealing with which will increase with time. On the whole it seems desirable to strengthen the Committee at once and the Executive Committee is therefore definitely asked to consider the matter.

The works of preparation have been as follows:

(a) In a "Collated List of Lunar Formations" Miss Blagg, under Saunder's direction gathered the corresponding names from the maps of Neison, Schmidt, and Mädler. This list was printed for the Committee at Edinburgh in 1913, by the help of a timely grant from the French Academy.

(b) By the help of a grant from the Royal Society Mr W. H. Wesley drew a map of the inner portions of the Moon with Saunder's guidance.

(c) The outer portions were to have been drawn by Franz, but though he had completed the necessary measures at the time of his death and published them under the title Die Randlandschaften des Mondes (Franz, Ehrhardt, Karras, Halle u. S., 1913) the drawing of the map had not been commenced. It was hoped for some time that this work would be undertaken in Breslau; but when this hope failed, Miss Blagg undertook the drawing herself, using Franz's measures, completed it in ten sections and had it photographed. Thus there are now available reproductions of the whole surface in fourteen sections for mean libration.

(d) Miss Blagg has entered on copies of these reproductions the numbers of her "Collated List": so that without prejudicing any decisions as to names, easy reference is available to the names in Neison, Schmidt or Mädler.

(e) Miss Blagg has been in friendly correspondence with Dr Müller of Vienna and M. Laméch, Director of the Observatory of Corfou, both of whom are preparing maps of the Moon, which will be available in some years' time. Dr Müller is meanwhile preparing a list (which he hopes may be ready by the time of the Leiden meeting) of Additions to Miss Blagg's "Collated List" showing the names and letters used by Lohrmann, Gaudibert, Goodacre, Wilkins, Anděl, Debes, Krieger and Fauth. He is also noting some corrections to the "Collated List."

(f) The lists printed below have been prepared by Miss Blagg to facilitate the decisions of the Committee

A sketch may now be given of the decisions required to put Lunar Nomenclature on a satisfactory basis. It seems probable that in many cases a general knowledge of astronomy and its history, rather than a special knowledge of the Moon, is required.

(1) List A, 412 names for which Mädler, Schmidt and Neison agree, to be retained.

(2) List B, 95 names generally accepted, though not used by all three above, to be retained.

(3) List C, 26 names needing consideration, as being uncertain in position, doubtful or inconspicuous objects, or for other reasons.

(4) List D, 31 names where the "Collated List" shows clashing, so that an authoritative choice must be made.

(5) Lists E to F, various proposed names, which are not in the "Collated List," to be considered.

(6) Should fixed abbreviations be given to the accepted names as has been done for the constellations?

(7) Letters. There is here much greater confusion than even in the names and it will probably require much care and patience to eliminate it. But a preliminary decision by the authority of the whole Committee would be helpful, viz. that Roman capitals should alone be used for craters and plains; and Greek small letters alone for mountains and ridges.

H. H. TURNER
President of the Commission
