

SYMPOSIUM IN MEMORY OF G. A. COHEN (1941–2009)

Gerald Allen ('Jerry') Cohen was one of the most influential political philosophers of the latter half of the twentieth century. When he died in 2009 Cohen left behind not only a short book and various unpublished papers but an intellectual legacy that will remain alive for many years. Economics and Philosophy initially planned to organize a review symposium devoted to Cohen's posthumous publications (Cohen 2009, 2011, 2012). However, the reviews became articles and the original project turned into a larger symposium in memory of Cohen. The editors would like to thank Ian Carter, Paula Casal, Serena Olsaretti and Andrew Williams for working with us on that project as it gradually took shape. We all believe that this is a fitting way to honour a remarkable philosophical career inspired by an unrelenting political passion.

Francesco Guala

REFERENCES

- Cohen, G.A. 2009. Why Not Socialism? Princeton, NJ: Princeton University Press.
Cohen, G.A. 2011. On the Currency of Egalitarian Justice, and Other Essays in Political Philosophy. Edited by M. Otsuka. Princeton, NJ: Princeton University Press.
Cohen, G.A. 2012. Finding Oneself in the Other. Edited by M. Otsuka. Princeton, NJ: Princeton University Press.