

IN THE ABUKO NATURE RESERVE, THE GAMBIA. Harnessed antelope (or western bushbuck) Tragelaphus s. scriptus (above left), and red-fronted gazelle Gazella rufifrons, with oribi Ourebia ourebi behind (below); above serval Felis serval, and right chimpanzee Pan troglodytes. The only wildlife reserve in this small independent African state (200 miles long by less than 20 miles wide), the Abuko has been established largely thanks to the enthusiasm of E. F. Brewer, Forestry Development officer, with the support of the President Sir Dauda Jawara, who is an FPS member. The FPS gave £3000 from the Revolving Fund in 1970 to fence the reserve—see Oryx September 1970, page 294. The wildlife is now well protected and numbers are building up. Photos by E. F. Brewer
