Development and Psychopathology

Editor

Dante Cicchetti, Mt. Hope Family Center, University of Rochester and Institute of Child Development and Department of Psychiatry, University of Minnesota, USA

This multi-disciplinary journal is devoted to the publication of original, empirical, theoretical and review papers which address the inter-relationship of normal and pathological development in adults and children. It is intended to serve the field of developmental psychopathology, which strives to understand patterns of adaptation and maladaptation throughout the lifespan. This journal is of interest to psychologists, psychiatrists, social scientists, neuroscientists, paediatricians and researchers.

Journal of Relationships Research

Editor

Terry Bowles, Melbourne University, Australia

This innovative journal provides researchers and practitioners with access to quality, interdisciplinary, peer-reviewed articles covering the entire range of fields associated with personal, intimate, organizational and family, and social relationships, development, training and analysis of human relationship skills across the life-span. Originally an initiative of the Psychology of Relationships Interest Group of the Australian Psychological Society, the journal became independent within its first year with the intention of publishing papers from the full array of researchers of relationship.

The journal features an experienced and eclectic Editorial Board and is international in its reach. There is a special emphasis on contributions from Asia, including the subcontinent and Pacific regions but the journal welcomes papers from all other parts of the world.

Journal of Relationships Research is published online-only in continuous yearly issues ensuring that the definitely accurate copy-edited and proof-read version of each research article is available to the worldwide research community within weeks of a successful peer review.

Important — Instructions for Authors

1. Review process

The journal operates a policy of anonymous, expert, peer review. Papers will be critically and rigorously reviewed by the Editor and a minimum of two independent expert reviewers.

Authors will be notified of the receipt of the manuscript. After the double-blind review is complete, the manuscript, reviews, and the decision letter will be forwarded to the author. After editing the author will resubmit the manuscript (with corrections and explanations) for final formatting in readiness for printing. The journal is published in two editions per year and authors will be notified in which edition of the journal the paper will be published.

2. Instructions to authors

- Submissions are expected to be theoretically grounded and methodologically sound.
- Authors are expected to prepare their manuscript (including references) in line with the latest APA style guide.
- Two cover pages are expected, one with the author's identity and details removed.
- Manuscripts must be typed in double spacing with margins of a minimum of two centimetres.
- Pages must be numbered.
- All manuscripts should begin with an Abstract, of not more than 250 words, describing the salient information about Background, Aims, Sample, Methods, Results, Conclusions, and Importance.
- Tables and figures, accompanied by their title, should be typed in double spacing, one per page.
- Tables and figures should be placed at the end of the manuscript and an indication of where they are to be inserted (e.g., 'Insert Table 1 here') should be present in the manuscript's text, close to where the table/figure is referred to.
- Wherever possible and if applicable effect size should be indicated.
- Authors are expected to write in an inclusive manner in reference to gender, and ability/disability.
- Authors are responsible for acquiring written permission to publish lengthy quotations, illustrations etc for which they do not own copyright.
- Authors are responsible for ensuring that the research described has been gathered, analysed and presented in the most ethically and scientifically respectful and rigorous manner.
- Authors must ensure that the manuscript is fully anonymised and any identifying references are removed.

3. Manuscript length

Papers should normally be no more than 6,000 words, although the Editor retains discretion to publish papers beyond this length in cases where the clear and concise expression of the scientific content requires greater length.

Brief reports (less than 3,500 words) are also welcome. Please indicate at submission which type of paper is being submitted.

4. Criteria for publication

In making your report you are requested to pay attention to the following points:

The paper

- is sufficiently theoretically and empirically grounded
- is sufficiently original
- clearly advances knowledge and practice in educational and developmental psychology
- contains balanced syntheses, summaries, arguments, and conclusions
- has clear grammar, syntax, and expression
- is ordered
- is free of faults in experimental procedure, proposed application, or theoretical reasoning

- is free of errors in mathematics, calculations, units, etc
- is parsimonious and reads well
- has correctly labelled figures and tables
- has correctly written and appropriate references, free from obvious omissions.

5. Communication with the Editor

All manuscripts will be acknowledged and reviewed by the Editorial Board or by invited reviewers.

7. Copyright

It is the policy of the Australian Psychological Society to own the copyright to its publications, and to the contributions contained therein, in order to protect the interests of the Society and its authors, and at the same time to facilitate the appropriate reuse of this material by others. Therefore, upon acceptance of their manuscript for publication, authors will be asked to fill in a copyright transfer form (http://journals.cambridge.org/images/fileUpload/documents/EDP_ctf.pdf) and return to the Editor. Publication of the manuscript will be contingent upon receipt of this form. Publications of the Society are distributed to various other publications for review and abstracting purposes. In addition, the Society has contractual agreements with various secondary publishers for the republication, in hard copy, microfilm, or digital form, of individual articles and journal issues as a whole. It is the Society's position that the abstracts that are published with its journal articles are indicative of and not a substitute for, the work as a whole; therefore, access services are allowed free use of these abstracts without securing the permission of the Society. Enquiries about policy and procedures relating to permission to reproduce material published in the journal should be directed to the Australian Psychological Society.

8. Disclosure

'The publication of an advertisement by the Australian Psychological Society is not an endorsement of the advertiser nor of the products and services advertised. Only those professional development activities carrying the APS logo and an appropriate endorsement statement can be considered to be specifically approved by the APS. Advertisers may not incorporate in a subsequent advertisement or promotional piece the fact that a product or service has been advertised in any publication of the Society.'
