Corrigenda

On p. 756 of Continuing Commentary by Brian Everill [BBS 14(4) 1991] on Marian Stamp Dawkins's target article "From an animal's point of view: Motivation, fitness and animal welfare" [BBS 13(1) 1990] the word felicity in the fifth paragraph should read felicific.

On p. 687 of the commentary by William A. MacKay on

Max Velmans's target article "Is human information processing conscious?" [BBS 14(4) 1991] the last sentences of the second paragraph should read: "Although the king is ignorant of, and indeed inept at the detailed operation of his realm, he sets the policies which govern these operations. More important, it is within the crown that many societies have found an expression of their unity."
