Beyond Magna Carta

A Constitution for the United Kingdom
Andrew Blick

The 800th anniversary of Magna Carta falls in June 2015. In this work Dr Blick argues that this event should be the occasion for a reassessment of the past, present and future of the UK constitution. He draws on his experience as research fellow to the first ever parliamentary inquiry into possibility of a written constitution for the UK.

Andrew Blick is Lecturer in Politics and Contemporary History at King's College London.

The Futures of Legal Education and the Legal Profession

Edited by Hilary Sommerlad, Sonia Harris-Short, Steven Vaughan and Richard Young

We are currently witnessing an unprecedented transformation in the legal profession and legal education. The Legal Services Act 2007 and the Legal Aid, Sentencing and Punishment of Offenders Act 2012 have necessitated dramatic structural changes to the profession. The recent Legal Education and Training Review also promises change to the provision of legal education. This book comprises a selection of papers presented at the 2nd conference of Birmingham Law School's Centre for Professional Legal Education and Research. The aim of the Conference, and thus this collection, was to bring together scholars, figures from professional practice, policy-makers, and representatives of the regulatory authorities, to reflect on the key issues arising from this transformative moment.

Hilary Sommerlad is Professor of Law, Sonia Harris-Short is former Professor of Family Law and Policy, Steven Vaughan is a Lecturer and Richard Young is Professor of Law and Policy, all at the University of Birmingham.

Power of Persuasion

Essays by a Very Public Lawyer
Sir Louis Blom-Cooper

Over the years of the developing judicial review of ministerial and governmental decisions, Louis Blom-Cooper was a leading advocate who grew up with the advent of a distinctive brand of public law. This collection of essays is uniquely prefaced by a self-examination of his unorthodox philosophy towards the law in action. It covers a variety of socio-legal topics that expresses his ambition to inform a poorly-educated public on the workings of the legal system. This aim involves a discussion of the constitutional history of Britain, the European Convention on Human Rights and crime and punishment.

Sir Louis Blom-Cooper QC was until 2004 a barrister at Doughty Street Chambers.

7TH EDN

The Law-Making Process

Michael Zander

As a critical analysis of the law-making process, this book has no equal. For more than three decades it has filled a gap in the requirements of students in law or political science taking introductory courses on the legal system and is now in its 7th edition. It deals with every aspect of the law-making process and presents a large number of original texts from a variety of sources laced with the author's informed commentary and reflections on the subject. This book is a mine of information dealing with both the broad sweep of the subject and with all its detailed ramifications.

Michael Zander QC is Emeritus Professor at the LSE.

International Journal of Law in Context

A global forum for interdisciplinary legal studies

The International Journal of Law in Context now features an exciting new section entitled 'Law in other contexts'. This section is dedicated to making available specially commissioned reports of socio-legal research in places where English is not the first language. In this way the journal hopes to bring attention to work which may not be easily accessible to those without knowledge of the relevant language (and culture).

Health Economics, Policy and Law

Published in association with LSE Health

Editor-in-Chief

Adam Oliver, London School of Economics and Political Science, UK

International trends highlight the confluence of economics, politics and legal considerations in the health policy process. Health Economics, Policy and Law (HEPL) provides a forum for inter-disciplinary health policy studies, and will be of use to academics, policy makers, health care managers and professionals. HEPL is international in scope, publishing both theoretical and applied work, with articles on all aspects of health policy. HEPL is particularly interested in publishing innovative ideas that promise to contribute to improving health and healthcare policy. Considerable emphasis is placed on rigorous conceptual development and analysis, and on the presentation of empirical evidence that is relevant to the policy process. Review articles and debate sections bring readers in touch with current research developments and issues.

Legal Theory

Editors

Matthew D. Adler, Duke University, USA
Larry Alexander, University of San Diego Law School, USA
David O. Brink, University of California, San Diego, USA
Scott J. Shapiro, Yale Law School, USA

Legal Theory draws contributions not only from academic law, but from a wide range of related disciplines in the humanities and social sciences, including philosophy, political science, economics, history and sociology. Topics covered fall mainly into the broad categories of analytical and normative jurisprudence, doctrinal theory, policy analyses of legal doctrines and critical theories of law.
