

State Practice Regarding State Immunities/ La Pratique des Etats concernant les Immunités des Etats

EDITED BY GERHARD HAFNER, MARCELO G. KOHEN AND SUSAN BREAU.

- In print 2006
- ISBN 90 04 15073 0
- Hardback (xxviii, 1043 pp.)
- List price EUR 295.- / US$ 398.-

This book is the result of the Pilot Project of the Council of Europe on State Practice Regarding State Immunities carried out under the auspices of the Committee of Legal Advisers on Public International Law (CAHDI) since 2002. It presents and analyses the material submitted by 27 Member States and one Observer State of the Council of Europe, including decisions of national courts, relevant legislation and other documents.

The analytical report was undertaken by the Department of International Law of Vienna University, the British Institute of International and Comparative Law and the Graduate Institute of International Studies, Geneva. It compares State practice with the relevant articles of the UN Convention, the European Convention on State Immunity and the draft articles prepared by academic institutions. It is the first in-depth analysis of European State practice in the field of State immunity. Such a broad analysis is inevitable in particular for the ascertainment of customary international law.

Ensuring Compliance with Multilateral Environmental Agreements

A Dialogue between Practitioners and Academia

EDITED BY U. BEYERLIN, P.T. STOLL AND R. WOLFRUM

- In print 2006
- ISBN 90 04 14617 2
- Hardback (xii, 396 pp.)
- List price EUR 145.- / US$ 196.-
- Studies on the Law of Treaties, 2

In this publication, a number of recognized practitioners and scholars undertake to explore the realities and the conceptual underpinnings of environmental compliance mechanisms. In a relatively short period of time, such mechanisms were introduced in a wide range of new and existing environmental regimes. Yet, little is known about their function in practice and their implications. This is puzzling when considering, that the new mechanisms considerably depart from traditional patterns of counteraction and dispute settlement. Instead they build on partnership and cooperation and include a wide range of possible reactions, which range from those having coercive power to supportive measures. Quite a number of those mechanisms and their functioning are explained in the publication in order to lay ground for some cross-cutting analysis, which covers inter alia reporting, inspection and monitoring, supportive financial incentives and the interrelationship between compliance mechanisms and the principle of state responsibility and dispute settlement. Finally the role of non-governmental organizations is addressed. Practitioners and scholars in international environmental affairs and international law more generally will benefit significantly from the inside views and thorough reflection as provided for in this book.

Merging Non-State Actors and International Law (ISSN 1567-7125) and the International Law FORUM du droit international (ISSN 1388-9036), the International Community Law Review (ICLR) addresses all aspects of international law and the international community.

The journal aims to explore the implications of various traditions of international law, as well as more current perceived hegemonic trends, for the idea of an international community. The journal will also look at the ways and means in which the international community uses and adapts international law to deal with new and emerging challenges. Non-state actors - intergovernmental and non-governmental organisations, individuals, peoples, transnational corporations and civil society as a whole - have changed our outlook on contemporary international law. In addition to States and intergovernmental organizations, they now play an important role.

Rather than regional, the focus of ICLR will be multicultural, including alternative and/or critical approaches, with contributions written by scholars from all parts of the globe.

Food Security and Food Safety / La sécurité alimentaire

The international community today confronts a dramatic paradox: we continue to produce more and more food, yet malnutrition, hunger and famine continue and even increase, placing millions of people in peril. At the same time, the more food is produced, the more risks of unsafe food are increasingly apparent and call to be addressed, partly through law.

We hope that this work may contribute to fill a major gap in the field: although food security constitutes a serious challenge on the world scale, one with many consequences, it has so far hardly been a subject of serious attention by scholars and researchers specialized in international law.

NEW TITLES IN INTERNATIONAL COMMERCIAL ARBITRATION

Commercial Arbitration in Sweden

Finn Madsen, Advokatfirman Vinge KB

"This book is an essential work of reference for non-Swedish practitioners and arbitrators in Swedish arbitrations."

— Arbitration International

As Sweden has become an increasingly popular venue for international commercial arbitration, knowledge of the Swedish Arbitration Act (SAA) and of the Stockholm Chamber of Commerce (SCC) Rules is necessary for practitioners in search of rapid guidance. This ready reference provides a section-by-section analysis of the SAA, and covers all relevant cases and commentary. It incorporates all changes to the SAA up to January 1, 2006.

Investor-State Arbitration

Christopher Dugan, Paul Hastings, Janofsky & Walker LLP, Don Wallace, Jr., Georgetown University

Noah Rubins, Freshfields Bruckhaus Deringer

The increasing importance of international investment has been accompanied by the rapid development of a new field of international law that defines the obligations of host states towards foreign investors and creates procedures for resolving disputes in connection with those obligations. Investor-State Arbitration examines the international treaties that give investors a right to arbitration of claims, the most commonly employed arbitration rules, and the most important elements of investor-state arbitration procedure. Expert coverage includes procedural barriers to recovery, analysis of the substantive law of investment protection, and analysis of recent investor-state arbitral jurisprudence.

International Commercial Arbitration in Latin America: Regulation and Practice in MERCOSUR and the Associated Countries

Jan Kleinheisterkamp, HEC School of Management, Paris

"The comprehensiveness of the material considered and the high density of the analysis are striking, both signs of the depth of the research... The book should become a standard work in its field."

— Prof. Dr. Jürgen Basedow, Director of the Max-Planck-Institute of Foreign Private and Private International Law, Hamburg

This treatise provides practitioners and scholars with in-depth analysis of the recent fundamental changes regarding arbitration in Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil, Chile, Paraguay, and Uruguay. For easy reference, relevant international treaties are reproduced, including the MERCOSUR Agreements of 1998.

Transatlantic Commercial Litigation and Arbitration

John Fellas, Hughes Hubbard & Reed, LLP

"A valuable addition to the libraries of practitioners dealing with transatlantic disputes."

— Carol Mulcahy, Berwin Leighton Paisner, London
Business Law International

Despite a common legal heritage, fundamental differences separate the processes of dispute resolution in the U.K. and the U.S. This unique volume highlights those differences by featuring chapters co-written by an English attorney and a United States lawyer, to ensure that legal and practical considerations are thoroughly addressed from both perspectives, and allowing those engaged in transatlantic business to fully understand the risks of litigation in the other country.

Justice and Civil Procedure in Japan

Carl F. Goodman, Adjunct Professor of Japan/US Comparative Law, Georgetown University Law Center

This timely guide is unique in relating modern civil procedure to aspects of Japanese society from both the feudal and pre-war period. Particularly useful for the busy practitioner is the checklist of differing societal and cultural approaches of the American and Japanese systems that have major impact on current legal practices.

The Oxford Handbook of Comparative Law

Edited by Reinhard Zimmermann, Director of the Max Planck Institute for Foreign Private and Private International Law, Hamburg, Professor of Private Law, Roman Law and Comparative Legal History, University of Regensburg

Mathias Reimann, Hessel E. Yntema, Professor of Law, The University of Michigan

The Oxford Handbook of Comparative Law provides a wide-ranging and highly diverse survey as well as a critical assessment of comparative law at the beginning of the twenty-first century. It summarizes and evaluates a discipline that is time-honoured but not easily understood in all its dimensions. In the current era of globalization, this discipline is more relevant than ever, both on the academic and on the practical level.

OXFORD COMMENTARIES ON THE GATT/WTO AGREEMENTS

Series Editor: Professor Robert Howse, University of Michigan

This landmark series of commentaries on all the major GATT/WTO Agreements offers unique coverage of the practical and theoretical aspects of these Agreements by an expert editorial team consisting of leading scholars and practitioners working in international trade.

Each volume provides an authoritative explanation of all major operative provisions of the treaties, with detailed article by article analysis. In addition, thematic sections address deeper questions of international legal order, economic policy, and legal norms and institutions beyond the WTO itself.

The WTO Agreement on Safeguards: A Commentary

Alan O. Sykes, Frank and Bernice Greenberg Professor of Law, University of Chicago

This book provides a thorough treatment of the legal, economic, and policy issues associated with safeguard measures in the WTO system. It includes a careful treatment of the history of safeguard measures under GATT, and the impetus for the Agreement on Safeguards during the Uruguay Round. It reviews the economic arguments for and against safeguard measures, including the modern political economy account of safeguards and "escape clauses" in international agreements.

The WTO Agreement on Agriculture: A Commentary

Joseph McMahon, Professor of Commercial Law, School of Law, University College, Dublin

The WTO Agreement on Agriculture subjected agriculture to a set of international rules for the first time in the history of international trade. Ever since its negotiation, the Agreement has been at the forefront of the controversy surrounding the purpose and impact of the WTO itself. This commentary provides a full legal analysis of the obligations imposed by the agreement on WTO members, the complex history of the Agreement's negotiation and revision, and the controversy surrounding its effect on international development.

Trade Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights A Commentary on the TRIPS Agreement

Carlos Correa, Director, Center for Interdisciplinary Studies on Industrial Property Law and Economics

The TRIPS Agreement is the most comprehensive and influential international treaty on intellectual property rights. This volume provides a detailed legal analysis of the provisions of the TRIPS Agreement, as well as elements to consider their economic implications in different legal and socio-economic contexts.

The General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade: A Commentary

Petros C. Mavroidis, Edwin B. Parker Professor of Law at Columbia Law School, Professor at the University of Neuchatel, Switzerland, and member of the Centre for Economic Policy Research

"The vivid analyses within GATT Commentary — of sovereignty issues, enforcement devices, transparency, and protection, to name a few — combine to yield a refreshingly provocative and informative illustration of GATT BASICS. Teachers and librarians with curricular interests in GATT/ WTO must include this compact expose in their personal and institutional collection of course supplements. Acquiring this compact nugget would also be a wise investment for both novice and seasoned practitioners."

The WTO Anti-Dumping Agreement: A Commentary

Edwin Vermulst, Vermulst Verhaeghe & Graafsma

The book provides an analytical overview of the World Trade Organization's Anti-Dumping Agreement, as interpreted by WTO Panels and the Appellate Body. The Anti-Dumping Agreement is often perceived as being the most technical and most controversial WTO agreement. The book explains both basic concepts and more advanced interpretations by leading WTO members in a relatively non-technical manner.

THE ANATOMY OF TORTURE: A Documentary History of Filartiga v. Pena-Irala

By William J. Aceves

This book tells the story of Filartiga v. Pena-Irala, one of the most significant examples of human rights litigation in the United States. From the initial complaint to the final judgment, the pleadings and legal documents appear with minimal editing. These documents are supplemented through commentary by various participants in the litigation—parties, attorneys, government officials, and judges. Other documents, including declassified government telegrams and correspondence are also provided.

2006. Approx. 425 pages. ISBN 1-57105-352-2. $125.00/hardcover.

THE UNIDROIT PRINCIPLES IN PRACTICE—Caselaw and Bibliography on the UNIDROIT Principles of International Commercial Contracts, 2d ed.

Edited by Michael Joachim Bonell

The UNIDROIT Principles in Practice provides a comprehensive collection of international caselaw and bibliographic materials relating to the Principles. It contains over 120 decisions by courts and arbitral tribunals worldwide referring to the UNIDROIT Principles; and a vast bibliography. The decisions, which are reproduced in the form of abstracts with keywords and in their full text (where available), are listed under each article of the Principles according to the specific issues they address.

2006. Approx. 700 pages. ISBN 1-57105-346-8. $95.00/paper. Special discount for classroom adoptions.

TERRORISM AND ANTI-TERRORISM: A Normative and Practical Assessment

By Christopher L. Blakesley

This work addresses the problems relating to terrorism and the attempts to address and stop it. The author challenges the so-called realist premise of fighting fire with fire and devolves a working definition of terrorism that may be applied to whatever group or nation that uses terror or terrorism as a tactic or strategy. He also covers occurrences of terrorism and counter-terrorism and analyzes international and domestic legislation, decisions, and actions taken to combat the enemy that is bent on using terrorism.

2006. Approx. 500 pages. ISBN 1-57105-332-8. $125.00/hardcover.

FAST TRACK: A Legal, Historical, and Political Analysis

By Hal Shapiro

Fast Track argues that the time has come for the United States to end its perennial debate over the process by which we approve international trade agreements—i.e., whether to resort to fast track or not—and begin a debate on how best to prepare American citizens to compete in a globalized world. There are signs that the United States is not ready and may even be falling behind. Without question, this book can help formalize a requisite national strategy.
