The Dynamics of Literary Response

By NORMAN N. HOLLAND, State University of New York at Buffalo. Philosophers have discussed the writer's role, and critics his craft, but until now there has been little disciplined inquiry into the relation of literature to the mind of man. Mr. Holland approaches the problem armed with a thorough understanding of psychoanalytic concepts, and develops a comprehensive theory of the psychology of literature. "The book is lucid, patient, and ingratiating without any sacrifice of theoretical rigor. I believe it will come to be recognized as the indispensable reference point for future discussion of the subject it treats."—FREDERICK CREWS, University of California, Berkeley. Line illustrations. $8.00

James Joyce Remembered

By CONSTANTINE CURRAN. Mr. Curran first met James Joyce in 1899, when they were both students at University College in Dublin; and the two remained close friends until Joyce's death forty-two years later. From his intimate friendship and knowledge of Joyce's Dublin background, and from his direct understanding of Edwardian Ireland's academic and literary worlds, Mr. Curran is able to illuminate many of the particulars behind Joyce's fierce assault upon Irish tradition, his repudiation of family and country, and his conception of the function of the universal artist. 4 plates. $5.75

Shifts of Being

By RICHARD EBERHART, Dartmouth College. Here are 55 new poems by the Pulitzer Prize-winning poet. Mr. Eberhart's brilliant images, informed by characteristic paradox and incongruity, reach a higher level of poetic realization than ever as they join elements of dream and reality, offering singular and intricate insight into mysteries of being, endurance, and belief. "Eberhart is indeed outstanding among the living representatives of the incantatory and celebrational strain." —R.W.B. LEWIS $3.75

Striking the Stones

By DANIEL HOFFMAN, University of Pennsylvania. This is the fourth collection by a poet who in 1967 received a $2500 award from the National Institute of Arts and Letters. STRIKING THE STONES shows the widening range of Daniel Hoffman's sensibility and the underlying unity of his themes—the invisible world behind the visible, sentient experience as its concealer and revealer, poetry as the discovery of its existence. "The quality of his imagination is unique: there is in it an element of wry humor and light irony . . . it functions through language and metaphors of great clarity." Sewanee Review $4.50

A STATEMENT OF EDITORIAL POLICY

PMLA endeavors to represent the most distinguished contemporary scholarship and criticism in the modern languages and literatures. It welcomes either new or traditional approaches by either young or established scholars, providing only that whatever it publishes is well written and likely to be of permanent value. The distribution of papers in PMLA should reflect work of distinction actually being done from year to year, regardless of periods or languages. Members who feel their interests neglected by this policy are urged to write and to encourage others to write articles good enough to be published.

Since its audience is the total membership of the Association, PMLA is reluctant to publish minor articles or highly technical studies addressed to specialists in limited fields. Nor does it encourage brief notes or unduly long papers. PMLA does not review books. Articles should be written in a clear, concise, and attractive style, with documentation held to a necessary minimum.

Any member of the Association has the privilege of submitting papers for publication in PMLA. Each paper submitted will be read by at least one consultant with special competence in the field concerned and, if in any way recommended, it will also be read by at least one member of the Editorial Committee. Attempt is made to publish papers within nine months of acceptance. If a decision to accept or reject a paper seems unduly delayed, contributors are reminded that the consultant readers and the Editorial Committee are distinguished men and women who generously contribute their scant leisure to the advancement of scholarship in humane letters.

Manuscripts must be prepared in conformity with the MLA Style Sheet, published in the April 1951 PMLA and on sale as a pamphlet in the MLA offices. Authors are urged to read also the advice of R. B. McKerrow and H. M. Silver on scholarly publication, published in the April 1950 PMLA, and "The Publication of Academic Writing," by Oscar Cargill, William Charvat, and Donald D. Walsh, in the Sept. 1966 PMLA, both also on sale as pamphlets. Manuscripts should be addressed to the Editor of PMLA, 62 Fifth Avenue, New York, N. Y. 10011. Carbon copies are not needed, but should be made and retained by the author.
