

People in Political Science

Fred R. Harris, department of political science, University of New Mexico, will spend fall semester 1986 in London, England, as director of the university's London Semester program, a one-semester appointment.

Michael Mosher, visiting assistant professor, at The University of Tulsa, spring 1987.

George Rathjens, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, will teach in Marquette University's department of political science in fall 1986 as the third Allis Chalmers Distinguished Professor of International Relations.

Harry Stumpf, department of political science, University of New Mexico, will be exchange professor, fall semester 1986, at the department of political science, University of Connecticut.

Theodore Vestal, senior visiting fellow, at The University of Tulsa, academic year 1986-87.

Retirements

John A. Armstrong, emeritus professor of political science, University of Wisconsin,

Madison. After May 20, his address will be: 40 Water Street, St. Augustine, FL 32084; phone: (904) 829-0171.

Murray Seidler, professor emeritus, August 1986, Wayne State University.

Roland E. Smith, professor emeritus of political science, Texas Tech University, retired in June 1986.

Award Recipients

American Council of Learned Societies

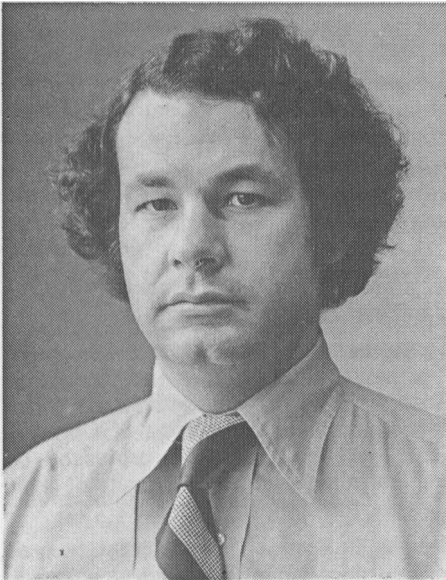

The American Council of Learned Societies has awarded 133 fellowships and grants-in-aid for research in the humanities and related social sciences. Following is a list of political scientist recipients, their institutional affiliations, and proposed projects.

Donald R. Brand, assistant professor of political science, University of Pennsylvania: Corporatism and the National Recovery Administration.

Ruth Grant, no academic affiliation, Chicago: Hypocrisy, authenticity, and modern politics.

Joel Rogers, assistant professor of political science, Rutgers University at Newark: United States labor policy.

D. Paul Thomas, associate professor of political science, University of California at Berkeley: Marxist state theory.

Steven V. Roberts of the New York Times received the 1985 Everett McKinley Dirksen Award for distinguished reporting of Congress.

Everett McKinley Dirksen Award

Steven V. Roberts, New York Times chief congressional correspondent, received the 1985 Everett McKinley Dirksen Award for distinguished reporting of Congress. The award has been given annually since 1980 by the Dirksen Congressional Center, Pekin, Illinois.

Guggenheim Fellowships

The John Simon Guggenheim Memorial Foundation has announced the award of 272 fellowships to scholars, scientists, and artists in the foundation's 62nd annual competition.

The following are political science awardees with their institutional affiliations, and proposed studies:

Steven J. Brams, professor of politics, New York University: Game theory and national security.

Walter D. Connor, professor of political science, Boston University: The Soviet working class in the post-Stalin era.

Edward Friedman, professor of political science, University of Wisconsin at Madison: Maoist socialism and the Leninist state.

National Graduate Fellowships

The U.S. Department of Education has announced the names of 82 National Graduate Fellows for 1985. The winners will receive up to $10,000 for a year of graduate study in the arts, humanities, and social sciences.

Following are students of political science who are fellowship recipients and their institutions.

Laura Hastings, Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Anthony Levitas, Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

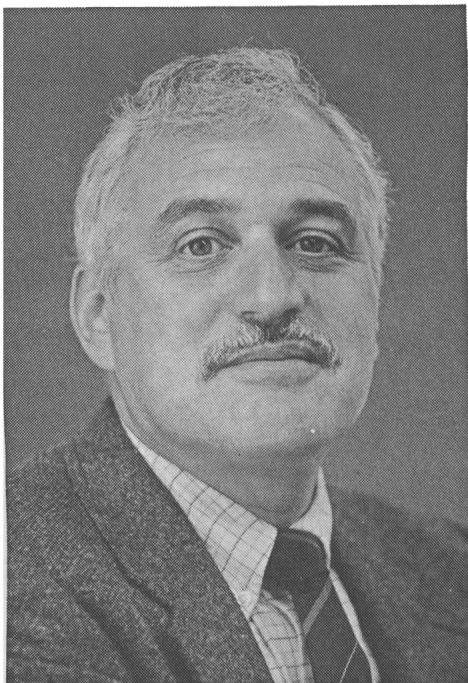

Kenneth Peter, Princeton University.

Steven Weber, Stanford University.

Western Political Science Association

At the 1986 Western PSA Meeting at Eugene, Oregon, the following awards were conferred.

Victor Magagna, University of California, Riverside, was given the dissertation award with a cash prize of $100 for his dissertation, completed at UC Berkeley, "Between Disaster and Desire: Rural Edward Friedman is a recipient of a Guggenheim Fellowship.

Community and Popular Rebellion in Comparative Perspective."

Gerald Wright and Michael B. Berkman, Indiana University, were given the Pi Sigma Alpha Award, with a cash prize of $200, for the best paper at the last WPSA annual meeting for their paper, "Voting in the 1982 U.S. Senate Elections: A Comparative State Analysis."

Joan Tronto, Hunter College, received the WPSA Women and Politics Award, with $100, for her paper "Beyond 'Women's Morality': Toward a Theory of Care."

Other Awards and Honors

Robert Axelrod, professor of political science and public policy, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, has been elected to the National Academy of Sciences.

John Bokina, Pan American University, is a recipient of the University's Outstanding Faculty Achievement Award for 1986.

Robert Axelrod has been elected to the National Academy of Sciences.

Ann O'M. Bowman, department of government and international studies, University of South Carolina-Columbia, has been awarded the 1986-87 Lincoln Government Fellowship at the National League of Cities.

Ronald Brecke, associate professor of political science, has been awarded the Zwingle Award as Outstanding Faculty Member at Park College, Parkville, Missouri.

Thomas E. Cronin, currently a visiting professor of politics at Princeton University, has been appointed the McHugh Distinguished Professor of American Institutions and Leadership at The Colorado College. Cronin has been associated with Colorado College since 1978.

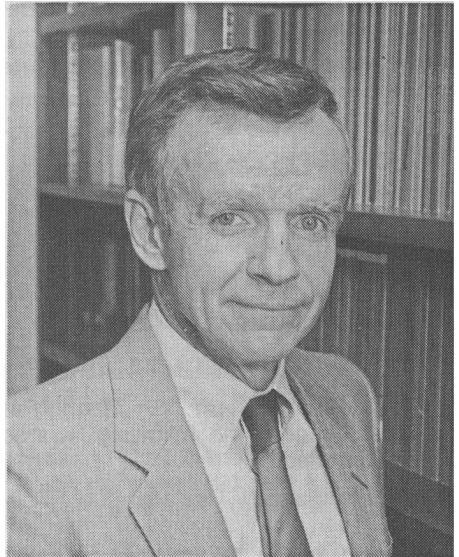

Thomas R. Dye, has been named Florida State University Foundation Professor of Government, in recognition of "demonstrated scholarly excellence, quality teaching, and competent service."

Susan Fino, assistant professor, Wayne State University, has received the President's Award for Excellence in Teaching 1986.

Roy Flemming, associate professor, Wayne State University, has received a

Ann Bowman has been awarded the 1986-87 Lincoln Government Fellowship at the National League of Cities.

Thomas R. Dye has been named Florida State University Foundation Professor of Government.

Faculty Development Fellowship
1985-86.

H. George Frederickson has been appointed Edwin O. Stene Distinguished Professor of Public Administration, University of Kansas.

Saguiv A. Hadari, assistant professor in the department of politics at Wake Forest University, was named the recipient of the Reid-Doyle Prize for Excellence in Teaching at the University's Founders' Day Convocation on February 4, 1986.

Thomas Horne, The University of Tulsa, NEH Faculty Fellowship, academic year 1986-87: "The Natural Right to Property."

Robert Jervis, Columbia University, has been elected to the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, a national honorary society with a membership of approximately 2,300.

Loch K. Johnson has received an award from the National Intelligence Study Center for his book, A Season of Inquiry. Authors are selected whose writing has contributed to better public understanding of the historical role and current functions of the U.S. intelligence community.

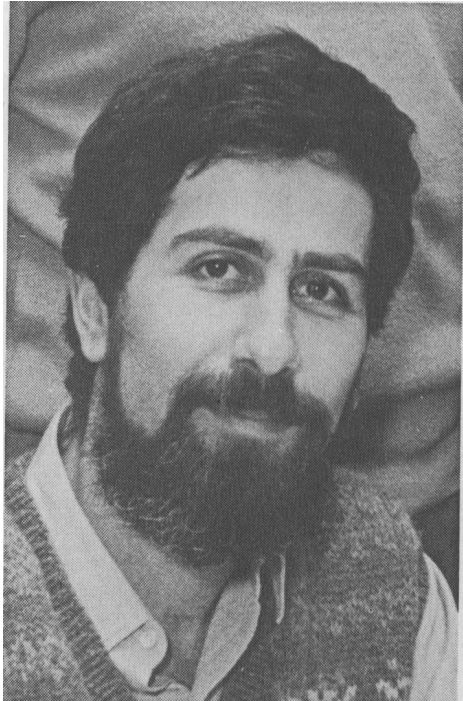

Seymour Martin Lipset, Caroline S. G. Munro Professor of Political Science and Sociology at Stanford University, is the recipient of the 1986 Margaret Byrd Rawson Achievement Award. Chosen by ten experts from nominees who have made significant accomplishments despite their learning disabilities, Lipset was honored at TRI-Services, Inc. Annual Dyslexia Awards Dinner in Washington, D.C., May 7.

Richard Locke, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, will study in Italy under an ITT International Fellowship administered by the Institute of International Education.

Eugene Meehan, professor of political science and public policy administration at the University of Missouri-St. Louis, was the 1986 recipient of the University of Missouri Presidential Award for Research and Creativity, a $10,000 prize given in recognition of a distinguished career of scholarship.

Susan Fino has received the President's Award for Excellence in Teaching at the Wayne State University.

Saguiv A. Hadari has been awarded the Reid-Doyle Prize for Excellence in Teaching at Wake Forest University.

People in Political Science

Barbara J. Nelson has been named to Group VII of the Kellogg National Fellowship Program.

Glenn D. Paige has received the Dr. G. Ramachandran Award for International Understanding.

Norman Ornstein has been appointed a Phi Beta Kappa visiting scholar for 1986-87.

Barbara J. Nelson, associate professor of public affairs, Hubert H. Humphrey Institute of Public Affairs, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, has been named to Group VII of the W. K. Kellogg Foundation's Kellogg National Fellowship Program.

Norman Ornstein, resident scholar at the American Enterprise Institute, has been appointed a Phi Beta Kappa visiting scholar for the 1986-87 academic year.

Glenn D. Paige, professor of political science at the University of Hawaii, received the Dr. G. Ramachandran Award for International Understanding—1986 in Kerala, India on February 23, 1986. This award recognizes the life work of those committed and dedicated to practicing and spreading the philosophy of Gandhi and "Dr. G.R."

Huey L. Perry, associate professor of political science, Southern University-Baton Rouge, was awarded a Ford Foundation Postdoctoral Fellowship for Minorities for 1986-87 for his research on: The Social and Economic Impact of Black Politics in the South.

Fred W. Riggs, professor of political science at the University of Hawaii, received the Order of the White Elephant of Thailand from the King of Thailand on April 1, 1986. This top honor of the Thai government is given to foreigners for distinguished service. Also, the first "Fred Riggs Award" was given at the national meeting of the American Society for Public Administration in Anaheim, California, on April 12, 1986.

Dennis Thompson, professor of politics at Princeton, has been designated as the Whitehead Professor in the Department of Government and at the John F. Kennedy School of Government at Harvard. Thompson will establish and administer a new Program in Professional Ethics.

Sheldon Wolin, professor of politics at Princeton University, received the 1985 Benjamin Evans Lippincott Award in Political Theory of the APSA for his distinguished work, Politics and Vision. As the recipient Wolin gave a public presentation at the University of Minnesota, Department of Political Science, on February 26, 1986, entitled "Democracy and the Welfare State." In the future, the award will be presented on a biennial basis.

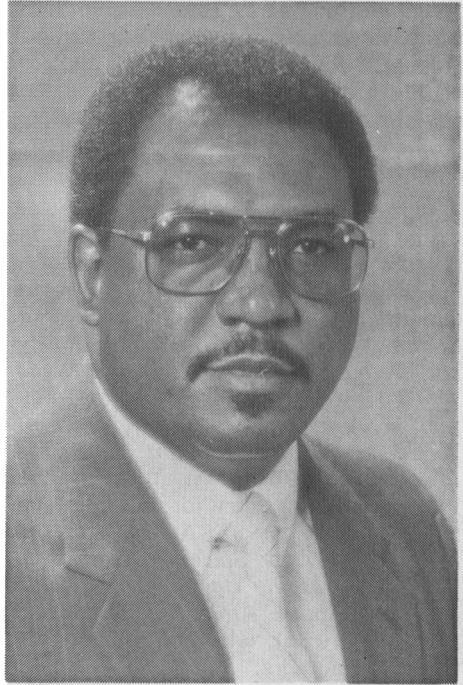

Robert Wrinkle, Pan American University, has received the University's Outstanding Faculty Achievement Award for 1986.

In Memoriam

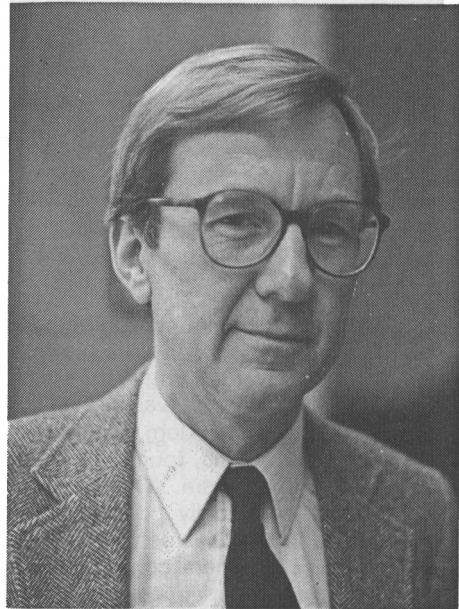

Louis Hartz

Louis Hartz, one of the most original minds of his generation of political scientists, died of a seizure on January 20, 1986, in Istanbul. Presumably he was in Turkey to continue the comparative study of cultures which had occupied him in recent years. He was 66.

Born in Youngstown, Ohio, the son of Russian immigrants, Hartz grew up in Omaha, Nebraska, going to Harvard in Huey L. Perry has been awarded a Ford Foundation Postdoctoral Fellowship to study black politics in the South.

Dennis Thompson has been designated the Whitehead Professor at Harvard University where he will inaugurate a Program in Professional Ethics.