STATE TERRORISM AND THE UNITED STATES

From Counterinsurgency to the War on Terrorism

Frederick H. Gareau

"Frederick Gareau's State Terrorism and the United States is an important, courageous analysis of America's long involvement in the training of foreign military and police organizations in techniques of torture, assassination, and ethnic cleansing... Gareau's research and documentation is path-breaking..."

Chalmers Johnson author of Blowback: The Costs and Consequences of American Empire

"Using as his evidentiary base the truth commission reports that have followed the ouster of terror regimes in El Salvador, Guatemala, Chile, Argentina and South Africa, along with a varied array of sources for Indonesia, Israel, Iraq (until August 1990), and Nicaragua, Gareau makes his case for vital Washington support for these regimes compellingly and soberly. ... This book is a valuable addition to the literature on terrorism."

A New World Order

Anne-Marie Slaughter

Global governance is here—but not where most people think. This book presents the far-reaching argument that not only should we have a new world order but that we already do.

"Anne-Marie Slaughter is a visionary, and A New World Order is her manifesto. Even those who have long studied international relations will see the world differently after reading this book."—Robert O. Keohane, Duke University

The Dark Sides of Virtue

Reassessing International Humanitarianism

David Kennedy

In this provocative and timely book, David Kennedy explores what can go awry when we put our humanitarian yearnings into action on a global scale—and what we can do in response.

"David Kennedy's challenging and thought-provoking arguments should be read, considered, and internalized by all activists and policy makers in international humanitarianism."
—Mary Robinson, former U.N. High Commissioner for Human Rights, former President of Ireland

The Lesser Evil

Political Ethics in an Age of Terror

Michael Ignatieff

There is perhaps no greater political challenge today than trying to win the war against terror without losing our democratic souls. Michael Ignatieff meets this challenge head-on, with the combination of pragmatic idealism, historical awareness, and political judgment that has made him a widely respected writer and commentator.

IRAQ CONFLICT

Will military action in Iraq in spring 2003 lead to fundamental transformation or possible destruction of the UN Charter system of law on the use of force? This inaugural Selections contains more than a dozen essays on the Iraq conflict—all with an eye to the future—written by a distinguished group of scholars and attorneys, including Eyal Benvenisti, Todd F. Buchwald, Richard A. Falk, Tom J. Farer, Thomas M. Franck, Richard N. Gardner, Thomas D. Grant, Miriam Sapiro, David J. Scheffer, Carsten Stahn, Jane E. Stromseth, Ruth Wedgwood, John Yoo, and the Legal Adviser of the U.S. Department of State, William H. Taft IV. Originally appearing in an Agora in the July and October 2003 issues of the American Journal of International Law, these contributions are supplemented by the six relevant UN resolutions and other materials, making Selections an excellent classroom tool.

State Failure, Sovereignty and Effectiveness

GERARD KREIJEN WITH A FOREWORD BY SIR ROBERT Y. JENNINGS, QC

This comprehensive study of State failure upholds that the collapse of States in sub-Saharan Africa is a self-inflicted problem caused by the abandonment of the principle of effectiveness during decolonization. Written in a style both provocative and unorthodox and using convincing arguments, this study casts doubt on some of the most sacred principles of the modern doctrine of international law. It establishes that the declaratory theory of recognition cannot satisfactorily explain the continuing existence of failed States. This work is a plea for more realism in international law.

The Power of Language in the Making of International Law

The Word Sovereignty in Bodin and Vattel and the Myth of Westphalia

STÉPHANE BEAULAC WITH A FOREWORD BY PHILIP ALLOTT

It is in the intellectual context of the new possibility of philosophy, and the great new challenge facing philosophy, that I place Stéphane Beaulac's important book. His work takes advantage, in particular, of several of the hard-earned lessons of twentieth-century philosophy and social experience. From the Foreword

Redress for Victims of Crimes under International Law

ILARIA BOTTIGLIERO

The work explores the origins, evolution and practice relating to victims' redress for crimes under international law - such as genocide, war crimes or crimes against humanity - in domestic law, regional and universal human rights regimes, humanitarian law, State responsibility, United Nations practice and international criminal law, including the International Criminal Court. The book argues that the international community must now move towards a much more comprehensive redress regime for victims of major crimes, and recommends ways to introduce greater coherence and fairness in victims' redress.

Human Rights Law in Africa

Volume 5

EDITED BY CHRISTOF HEYNS. ASSISTANT EDITOR: MORNE VAN DER LINDE

The aim of this reference work is to make African human rights law accessible to all those involved in or interested in human rights law on the continent in order to strengthen its impact.

Primary documents are introduced and reproduced and presented in a coherent framework. The main institutions - public and private - dealing with human rights in Africa are identified and discussed. Comprehensive overviews of the international human rights legal regimes applicable to Africa, as well as country reports are provided. This book tries to contribute towards documenting, systemising and anchoring the African human rights system.
