EDITORIAL POLICY AND PRACTICES

Theatre Survey is chartered by the American Society for Theatre Research as a theatre history journal. Its theatrical and historical orientations are both broadly conceived. Performance-centered studies are welcome from all points across all historical, cultural, and methodological spectra, as are historiographic studies.

Dramatic literature studies not substantively related to actual performance normally would be outside the journal's purview.

Manuscripts submitted should be between fifteen and forty pages in length; prepared according to the Chicago Manual of Style, 14th ed.; and double-spaced with endnotes. Illustrations are welcome. Please submit three copies to facilitate juried review. The juried review normally takes four to six months. Articles accepted must be submitted both in hard copy and on diskette (IBM-based Microsoft Word 6.0 or compatible).

A self-addressed, stamped envelope is required for the return of manuscripts.

Call for Applications for Associate Editor, Theatre Survey

Applications (or nominations) are invited for the position of Associate Editor for Theatre Survey. In the new organizational structure of the editorship, the appointee will serve as Associate Editor for two years, working with the current Editor, and thereafter as Editor for two years. The appointment begins in August 1999.

Candidates should have a record of scholarly publication in theatre history/theory, be familiar with both landmark scholarship and new methodologies across the spectrum of the discipline, and be active in professional scholarly organizations. The promise of some institutional support, such as aid for a graduate student assistant, would be an asset.

Send to the address below three copies of a letter describing your qualifications, a curriculum vitae, and the names of three people who would be willing to support your application. The deadline for application is 1 March 1999.
