

CAMBRIDGE: the best in legal studies

The Cambridge Law Journal

Editor: M. J. PRITCHARD

The Cambridge Law Journal publishes articles on all aspects of law. A special emphasis is placed on contemporary developments, but the journal's range includes jurisprudence and legal history. The articles and case notes are designed to have the widest appeal to those interested in the law – whether as practitioners, students, teachers, judges or administrators – and to provide an opportunity for them to keep abreast of new ideas and the progress of legal reform. Each issue also contains an extensive section of book reviews.

International Affairs

Editor: J. E. SPENCE, Managing Editor: CAROLINE BLACKER

Published for The Royal Institute of International Affairs

International Affairs founded in 1922, is the leading policy journal of contemporary world affairs. It combines broad-based coverage of global policy questions with up-to-date and penetrating analysis of the key processes shaping world developments. Articles by practising policy-makers and academic specialists keep both general and specialist readers in touch with the leading edge of European debates, as well as authoritative thinking worldwide on current international issues.

'In the depth of its analysis, as much as in the range of its policy discussion, there is no journal to match International Affairs.'

Professor Fred Halliday, London School of Economics

Quarterly (ISSN 0020-5850) • Subscription to Volume 73 (1997):

Review of International Studies

Editor: PAUL TAYLOR

Published for the British International Studies Association

Established in 1974 as the flagship journal of the British International Studies Association, Review of International Studies serves the needs of scholars in politics, law, history and all other areas of social science in the international arena. It has an established reputation for serious scholarship, attracting contributions from academics of international standing.

Forthcoming articles for 1997 include: Securing the peace of Jerusalem: on the politics of lying and dividing; Is robust globalism a mistake?; Democratization and foreign policy change: the case of the Russian federation; The concept of security; Minority rights in Europe; Informally special? The Churchill-Truman talks of January 1952 and the state of Anglo-American relations; Intermittent republics and democratic peace puzzles.

Social Philosophy and Policy

Editor: ELLEN FRANKEL PAUL, Associate Editors: FRED D. MILLER, Jr. and JEFFREY PAUL

Social Philosophy and Policy is an interdisciplinary journal with an emphasis on the philosophical underpinnings of enduring social policy debates. The issues are thematic in format, examining a specific area of concern with contributions from scholars in philosophy, economics, political science and law. While not primarily a journal of policy prescriptions, articles typically connect theory with practice. The 1997 issues will be: 'Self-Interest' and 'The Welfare State'.

Semi-annual (ISSN 0265-0525) • Subscription to Volume 14 (1997):

Institutions $84.00 • Individuals $34.00.

LEGAL THEORY

INSTRUCTIONS FOR CONTRIBUTORS

Submitted articles and editorial correspondence should be sent to Jules L. Coleman, Editor, Legal Theory, Yale Law School, 127 Wall Street, New Haven, CT 06511, USA.

Legal Theory is a quarterly, peer-reviewed journal that will be edited to the highest standards with the assistance of a prestigious international editorial board. Legal Theory encompasses a broad range of topics, including but not limited to analytical jurisprudence, normative jurisprudence, policy analyses of legal institutions and doctrines, theories of law as a social or cultural phenomenon, and critical perspectives on law and legal institutions.

Preparation of manuscript. A separate title page should be prepared including the article title, short title for use as a running head (not to exceed 45 characters), author's full name and affiliation, and complete contact information (including phone number and e-mail address).

Manuscripts should be submitted in triplicate and should conform to Chicago style (however, see below concerning preparation of reference and note material). Please include a diskette version of the manuscript; the disk and the hard copy versions should match perfectly. Manuscripts should be shorter than 10,000 words exclusive of notes. An abstract of no more than 150 words should be included. Submissions directly commenting on other works in the existing literature are welcome.

The entire manuscript (including notes and references) should be typed double-spaced on 8-1/2 by 11 inch or A4 paper, with wide margins for copyediting. Manuscript pages should be numbered consecutively. Authors of accepted articles will be asked to prepare a final version in the journal's style and to submit it on disk together with a hard copy version.

Figures. If the manuscript is accepted for publication, the author must provide figures that are ready for photographic reproduction; they cannot be redrawn by the publisher, unless the author pays for the cost of such work. Charts, graphs, or other artwork must be drawn by a professional artist or computer generated on a laser printer, in black ink on white paper, and should remain legible after a 50% reduction. All labels and details on figures should be clearly printed.

References and notes. References should conform to the legal style of The Bluebook: A Uniform System of Citation, 15th edition, published by the Harvard Law Review Association.

Copyediting and proofreading. The publisher reserves the right to copyedit and proofread all articles accepted for publication, but authors will be consulted in the case of any substantial changes. Page proofs of each article will be sent to the lead author for correction of typographical errors only.

General. Submitting an article to Legal Theory implies that it has not been published elsewhere and is not being considered for publication elsewhere. Authors must obtain written permission to publish any material for which they do not own copyright. They will be asked to assign the copyright of their article, under certain conditions, to Cambridge University Press. Authors of articles will receive 25 offprints of their article free of charge; additional copies may be purchased if ordered at proof stage on the form provided. (In the case of joint contributions, offprints will be sent to the first named author unless otherwise requested.)
