The authors would like to add in two references to the above article:

On page 5, paragraph 6, a citation should have been included in the third sentence to read: “However, there is strong evidence pointing to a high level of continuity between childhood/adolescent and adult psychopathology (McGorry, 2011).”

On page 7, paragraph 7, a citation should have been included in the third sentence to read: “Delay in the start of treatment can have multiple deleterious consequences, and mental health professionals should be well aware of this (McGorry, 2011).”

The authors apologise for these errors.
